TAFT-HARTLEY ACT GOES INTO EFFECT TODAY

Full Force Is Felt as U. S. Switches Its Labor Policy Onto New Track.

(Summary of Taft-Hartley act details on page 3)

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—The Taft-Hartley act went into full force today, switching this country's labor policy to a new track.

At the same time evidence mounted of a deep-rooted difference of opinion among supporters of the new law as to its basic philosophy.

This difference is between:

▶Those, like Rep. Hartley (R-NJ), who hold that employers should take full advantage of the law, and that if they bargain away any of their new rights they are violating the "spirit" of the act.

▶Those, like Senator Taft (R-Ohio), who hold since the law is designed to encourage free collective bargaining and peaceful relations employers can make any agreements they please if these don't violate the letter of the act.

Makes Little Comment

Taft made his views clear when John L. Lewis won his contract battle with the coal operators early last month. Since then he has had little comment on the new law.

But Hartley told employers in a speech at Chicago yesterday that they now have an act which protects their rights, asking them:

"Aren't you willing to stand up and be counted and fight for this law?"

Hartley also reiterated his warning to employers that if they sign contracts which "violate the spirit" of the act, he will bring them to Washington and ask, "how come?"

Last week in Detroit, Hartley struck out at "big business leaders who are attempting to bypass" the new law.

Can Sue Unions

It enables an employer to sue a union for strikes in violation of contract, but a number of employers have agreed not to sue unions for strikes which the unions don't authorize.

Most major provisions of the union-curbing law took effect today, 60 days after congress enacted it over President Truman's veto.

The CIO and AFL had no immediate new comment. They op-

PRINTERS TO TEST TAFT-HARTLEY ACT

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 22 — The AFL-International Typographical Union invited a test of the Taft-Hartley act as the measure became fully operative today, refusing to sign any new contracts with the newspaper and printing industries.

The union, in its 89th convention which ends today, wrote a new labor-management policy into its by-laws requiring that local unions negotiate agreements and work for only those employers who are willing to toss away formal contracts.

Instead, the union will insist on a memorandum setting forth "Conditions of Employment" on wages and hours, etc.

While employers were virtually silent on the proposal, industry representatives here indicated that many publishers and printer-employers would consent to the employment memo. In early years of the union, the same idea of posting "Conditions of Employment" in print shops prevailed.

If employers decline to meet the union's request that such memoranda be substituted for the

LIGHTNING HITS BRIDGE; KILLS 1

Columbusite Dies of Injuries; 3 Others Dumped Into River.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22—A 51-year-old victim of the lightning blast, which chewed off a 40-foot concrete section of mid-town Broad street bridge last night and flipped four persons into the Scioto river, died today.

Miss Marian Johnson succumbed at Mt. Carmel hospital of shock and internal injuries, 17 hours after the bolt struck the 26-year-old span during the evening rush hour at the height of an electrical storm.

Three other victims, fished from the water by passersby along with Miss Johnson, were less critically injured.

Police said apparently no other persons were trapped among the huge concrete slabs ripped from the structure with bomb-like devastation.

Damage Estimated

City Engineer Paul W. Maetzel estimated damage to the bridge at $50,000.

Maetzel said the structure remained basically sound and that damage confined to a walkway and ballustrade. He inspected the bridge before re-opening it to traffic last night.

Three others, also veterans administration employes, who were rescued from the river, are:

Miss Irene Murphy, 24, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Murphy, Bronx, N. Y., who received lacerations and bruises.

Janet Klinkert, 36, and Arnett Spohn, 30, both of Columbus. Both suffered broken legs.

The bridge was hit at 5:40 p. m. when homeward bound office workers poured over the span that divides Columbus' main office and business section from a major residential area.

100 Feet Destroyed

More than 100 feet of the ballustrade and walkway along the southwest side of the bridge was destroyed.

An intra-city bus carrying 90 passengers was within 100 yards of the strike. No one was injured

Two city firemen were treated for minor injuries, suffered in rescue attempts.

The 852 foot bridge was constructed in 1921 at a cost of $600,000.

Tells Story

Describing the experience, Miss Murphy told newsmen:

"I was walking with Miss Johnson and we had just stepped on the bridge when the bolt hit. I said, 'My that one was close,' and the next thing I knew I was in the water. I swam around for awhile until firemen rescued me."

Her companion said "The bridge just blew up under our feet. One moment we had been walking along together and the

Two Hurt in Crash At Radnor Crossing

Two Prospect township residents were injured, one seriously, when the car in which they were riding struck a stalled freight train, then was hit simultaneously by a southbound freight near Radnor at 3:22 a. m. today.

According to an Associated Press report from Delaware, Mrs. Beulah Arnold, 27, suffered a compound fracture of the right leg, possible internal injuries and multiple lacerations of the head and upper part of the body. She is in Delaware hospital and her condition is reported to be "just fair."

Lee Evans, 25, also of near Prospect, driving the car, received lacerations and bruises. He was admitted to the hospital for treatment but is reported in "good" condition.

The accident occurred about 1½ miles east of Radnor on the Ashley-Radnor road at the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing. According to reports, Evans was driving east on the road. At the crossing, a freight train sitting on a siding was blocking the crossing, and the southbound freight was approaching on the other track.

Patrolmen said Evans tried to beat the other freight over the crossing and apparently failed to see the one that was stalled. His car crashed into the stopped freight and was hit simultaneously by the moving train.

Evans was able to get Mrs. Arnold out of the car and he carried her along the track about three car lengths between the two trains before collapsing. The car was crushed between the two trains and caught fire.

Mrs. Arnold's husband, Russell Arnold, was following in another car about 100 yards behind the Evans car and was the first to reach the scene of the accident.

STORMS CAUSE HEAVY DAMAGE IN SOUTH OHIO

21 Dead in State as Heat Wave Rolls On with No Relief Promised.

Damaging electrical storms, particularly in the southern part of the state yesterday, was top weather news in Ohio today, with 21 listed dead. Continued hot weather for Marion and the rest of the state was forecast, with August predicted by Ohio weather authorities to be warmest in Ohio history if present conditions prevail.

The midwestern hot wave will continue three more days, with no relief in sight until at least Sunday, it was predicted.

Forecast is "partly cloudy, continued warm and humid today, tonight and Saturday, with scattered thunderstorms."

Temperature at noon today was 78. Maximum temperature reading yesterday was 92, and low was 69. Thermometers a year ago registered a maximum heat of 77 degrees and a minimum of 59.

Damaging Storms Sweep Southern Ohio

By The Associated Press

Damaging electrical storms swept southern Ohio yesterday as high temperatures indicated the month would be the warmest in recorded Ohio history.

Chillicothe and Hamilton reported severe thunderstorms which left damage in their wake, while another storm hurled a lightning bolt at crowded Broad street bridge in Columbus, leaving four people struggling in the Scioto river when part of the span was destroyed.

Weatherman George W. Mindling said at Columbus the first 21 days of August hold the record as the hottest since the bureau was opened. The hottest August previously recorded, he said, was in 1900.

Storms started at least 12 fires in Chillicothe where four inches of rain fell in a two and one-half hour period before 6 p. m. Sewers over-flowed and basements filled from a flash flood which hit Chillicothe from the west. A landslide on state route 59 limited traffic to one-way.

Lightning ignited a barn and caused $7,500 damage near Hamilton. Other bolts damaged the steeple of the United Brethren church and an apartment house roof.

The destroyed barn belonged to Jacob Stahlheber who lives two miles north of Hamilton.

More than 25,000 persons were without electrical power and four radio stations were silenced for eight minutes in the Cincinnati area. Cleveland was without power early today.

Four major power lines feeding into Columbus went out shortly before the peak afternoon load was expected yesterday, causing a heavy traffic jam. Residents in the northwest part of the city were without power late into the night.

Power failures also silenced police, state patrol and county sheriff's radio transmitters temporarily.

The Chillicothe storm knocked the temperature from 95 to 69. Thousands huddled in buildings at the Ross county fairgrounds where water stood two-feet deep in places.

A record temperature for the fourth consecutive day — 96 — was marked at Cleveland, the fifth straight day of 90-degree readings. Coroner S. R. Gerber said there were 16 heat deaths in Cleveland in seven days.

The toll for the state stood at 21 heat deaths yesterday, with fatalities recorded at Toledo,

CAR THEFT SUSPECTS ESCAPE PURSUERS

State, County, City Officers Chase Pair Near Galion.

State patrolmen from the Marion station were aided in conducting a manhunt last night by patrolmen from Mansfield, Galion city police, the Morrow county sheriff's office, and a number of farmers.

Object of the search were two youths who abandoned a stolen automobile and ran through a wooded area and corn field about two miles west of Galion off route 10. They were not apprehended, but Galion police are holding two suspects, arrested in the city, for investigation.

Suspicion of the patrol was aroused when a patrol car drove past a parked auto and noticed two youths walking away from it. The patrolmen turned back to investigate and the youths took to the fields upon seeing him turn around.

It was learned that the car was stolen from near Lisbon in Columbiana county at about 11:30 a. m. yesterday morning.

The search was started at about 7:30 p. m. yesterday with about 25 persons taking part. They were unable to find the boys, who first ran through a farm yard, then into a woods, and then into the corn field.

Fingerprints of the suspects are being checked and information concerning the case has been sent to the Salem post of the patrol, which had been checking the theft.

Evidence found included a suitcase left in the auto.

FAIR CLOSING SET TONIGHT

Radio Show Scheduled; Winners in Jersey Cattle Show Listed.

The 97th annual Marion county fair will close tonight with fair officials pronouncing it one of the most successful ever held.

Today's program includes harness races, scheduled to start at 1:30 p. m. and the appearance of radio's Grand Old Opry with the Duke of Paducah for two shows tonight. The first show will start at 8 p. m. and the second will be approximately at 9:30 o'clock.

Some 25 entertainers are in the troupe.

The earlier starting time for the races today was due to the cancelation of last night's program because of the rain. The canceled race will be run this afternoon instead.

Jersey Cattle Show Held

Highlighting yesterday's schedule was the annual Jersey cattle show held by the Sixth Ohio District of Jersey breeders. All open class livestock and horses were judged yesterday, bringing the judging events to a close.

Town and Country Unit No. 1, House and Garden, Unit No. 2 and Sun and Shade, Unit No. 3 of the Marion Garden Club entered a number of floral arrangements in the annual county flower show. Mrs. Andrew Knapp had a unique display of vegetable-flower arrangements, but they were not entered in the competition.

Attendance yesterday was estimated to be 8,000. Even after the racing events were rained out, GALION, Aug. 22—The strike at the North Electric Manufacturing Company plant here went into its third day, today, idling approximately 800 workers here and 250 at the Mt. Gilead plant, which was closed by the plant manager, Hoy Rhodebeck, Thursday morning.

From the outlook at present, it can be a long strike. Speaking for the estimated 95 per cent of production workers who have signed pledge cards to the Local 750, United Auto Workers (CIO), Edward J. Kidnaping Theory Holds As Search Yields No Result

By W. T. BUCHANAN
Marion Star City Editor

More than 48 hours after the mysterious disappearance of 20-month-old Carolyn Jeannette Peterson from her parents' home near Waldo about noon Wednesday, sheriff's officers and a large posse of neighbors have found no trace of the child.

Authorities and parents still hold to the belief the child was kidnaped. They are not overlooking the fact, however, that in the slightly rolling land, much of it overgrown with weeds and underbrush, there are many places where she might be concealed. This area was searched Wednesday and re-searched yesterday and today.

The child disappeared about 11 a. m. Wednesday from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs Charles Peterson of route 98 a mile and a half north of Waldo.

Aim at $2,000 Reward Offer

A group of Waldo citizens this morning pressed a campaign to raise at least $2,000 to offer as a reward for return of the child unharmed.

A group including Bob Coleman, Gerald Norris, Wilbur Williams and Carl Miley, was in Marion shortly after noon today making arrangements for collecting the money. They said they expected to obtain locked ballot cans from the board of elections to place at various points in Waldo and vicinity. All the men are residents of Waldo except Norris, who lives in Akron but who was born in Waldo.

They said they already had pledges of nearly $1,000 without any organized effort to raise the money. Their goal, they said, was at least $2,000.

For Child's Safe Return

The reward will be offered for the safe return of the child. In case it is not claimed, they said, it will be turned over to the parents.

Plans now have been made for placing the ballot cans at the following places: the Peterson home, the Hi-Speed service station in Ashley, and the Waldo Pure Oil station at the junction of routes 98 and 23.

Movement to raise the reward money started spontaneously last night and by this morning $235 had been pledged. About noon Rev. S. C. Long, Waldo Lutheran minister, reported an unnamed donor was offering $500. Other unsolicited pledges had raised the total to nearly $1,000 by 1 p. m.

Child Seen Along Highway

Probably the last persons to see the child before she disappeared are Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cocherl of two miles east of Waldo.

The Cocherls reported seeing the child toddling south on the east side of route 98 about 10:45 Wednesday morning. This is the approximate time of her disappearance. She was almost to the Donithen road, about 500 feet from the house.

The couple were driving north on the highway. Mrs. Cocherl, who was riding on the right side of the car, the side next to the east side of the road, said she noticed the child particularly. She said she thought at the time the child was rather small to be alone on the road so far from the house.

She said the child was toddling along as rapidly as she could go, swinging her arms as she ran.

The Cocherls, who were married only last Sunday, were enroute from their new farm home two miles east of Waldo to the home of Mrs. Cocherl's parents on route 95 four miles east of Marion. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Collier, who live on the Huber farm on route 95.

Mrs. Cocherl said they had seen the Peterson children playing about the house when they passed on previous occasions. "I thought we should have stopped when we saw the girl and I wish now we had," she said.

The Cocherls reported the incident to the Petersons last night after reading news accounts of the child's disappearance.

The grief-stricken mother said today she would never give up hope. "I'll go on for years believing she will be found," she said.

When Carolyn disappeared she was wearing a bright orange play suit and brown shoes. She has blue eyes, long blond curly hair. Cutting her first teeth, she has two above and four below. She also is described as being of "chunky" build.

Continued search of the area today, including the Olentangy river, was fruitless.

Parents Show Strain

The parents, strain showing in red-rimmed eyes and twitching nerves, shook their heads and said:

"We can not understand why any one would do this to us. Our family has no enemies, but if we have done something to some one we are sorry."

They buttressed the official kidnaping theory by adding:

"Carl said he saw a car drive up in front of the house and believes Carolyn went away in it."

"Perhaps those who took Carolyn did not mean any harm. She was a beautiful child," the father said. "If those who took her away will bring her back, we will not ask that they be prosecuted. All we want is Carolyn."

Search River Area Again

Search for the child was resumed along the Olentangy river this morning on the faint hope she might have wandered that far from the Peterson house.

The river is nearly a quarter of a mile east of the house. To reach the stream directly east from the house the child would have had to cross a 10-acre cornfield and field of wheat stubble. A narrow wooded strip grown up with trees, underbrush and weeds lines the river bank. Authorities believe it is impossible that the child could have reached the river by this route.

The Cocherl report, however, would place the child in a position to reach the stream by a different route. This also would be difficult for a child even several years older than Carolyn.

This route is an extension of the Donithen road, east from route 98. This section of the road, although opened, is never used by traffic and is grown up with brush and weeds. It extends eastward to the river.

Search of the river this morning started in that vicinity. It was led by the father and sheriff's officers with the assistance

U.S. DROPS ESTIMATE OF 1947 CORN CROP

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—The agriculture department reported yesterday that the nation's corn crop was indicated at 2,437,000,000 bushels as of Aug. 15.

This estimate compared with 2,659,949,000 bushels forecast for Aug. 1, last year's record crop of 3,287,927,000, and with the 10-year (1936-45) average of 2,632,102,000.

It also compared with a government production goal of 3,000,000,000 bushels. Cool wet weather at planting time and hot, dry weather this month combined, the department said, to cut this year's prospects.

Unless there is an immediate favorable turn in the weather, the crop will be short of the quantity needed to maintain a high level of livestock production next year.

Today's estimate was based on the Aug. 15 outlook in 12 major corn-producing states in the midwest and the Aug. 1 outlook in other states.

California shipped more than 29 thousand cars of fruits and vegetables to New York City in 1946. New York state sent more than 35 thousand cars.

Weapons Against Disease

We stand today at the threshold of the atomic age; and many of us stand there in fear and trembling. We are aware of the destructive power unleashed by science in the splitting of the atom, but forget that the same forces may also be used as powerful weapons against disease.

Even before the actual splitting of the atom, early experiments had given us certain radioactive elements which could be used in the treatment of various ailments. We can get some idea of what the future may hold by a look at past experience with one of the first of the elements to be rendered radioactive — phosphorus. Radioactive phosphorus has been employed in the treatment of various disorders over a period of ten years and a great deal has been learned concerning its use.

Dr. Edward Reinhard of St. Louis, Mo., and his co-workers, have been able to study almost 300 patients in whom the radioactive phosphorus was employed.

The preparation may be administered either by injection into a vein or by mouth. However, by mouth larger doses are necessary.

The best results with radioactive phosphorus have been obtained in a disorder known as polycythoemia in which there is an increase in the number of red cells in the blood. This condition causes such symptoms as shortness of breath, and loss of weight and strength.

In carrying out the treatment, the radioactive phosphorus is administered for a few days and then no more is given for three months, if the condition still persists, a second course of the drug is administered, and some patients need even a third course three months later. From then on, no further treatment is given unless a relapse develops.

Another disorder in which the radioactive phosphorus is employed is one known as chronic myelogenic leukemia. In this disorder, the radioactive phosphorus greatly relieves the symptoms, lessening the size of the spleen, which is located in the left upper part of the abdomen, and seems to relieve the anemia which is present in this condition, that is, the lessening of the number of red cells in the blood.

In myelogenic leukemia, there is an increase in the number of white cells in the blood, particularly the type known as myelocytes. With the radioactive phosphorus treatment, the number of these cells in the blood was greatly reduced. Several patients have been relieved of their sypmtoms for a period of a year or more.

In lymphatic leukemia, a disorder in which there is also a great increase in the white cells of the blood, treatment with the radioactive phosphorus gives less satisfactory results. Improvement for short periods of time, however, are brought about. It would appear that in this latter disorder, X-ray treatment may be of greater help than the use of the radioactive phosphorus.

Radioactive phosphorus is rather scarce at present, but gradually more and more will be made available and with it will come other radioactive materials which may give medical science of the atomic age the means of conquering what are now regarded as mysterious and fatal diseases.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

J. W. G.: Will you please tell me something about varicose veins?

Answer: A varicose vein is one which has become dilated or enlarged. It is caused by obstruction to the circulation, such as is due to pregnancy, or because of inactive living.

The use of exercise and massage, and the wearing of an elastic bandage are helpful in relieving and preventing varicose veins. Sometimes these veins are removed by operation.

Recently, varicose veins have been treated by means of injection.

GASOLINE RATIONING IS ON AT CLEVELAND

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22—Retail gasoline rationing—voluntary and on a piecemeal basis—began in Cleveland today.

One company-operated filling station of the Standard Oil Co. in suburban Rocky River limited sales to five gallons per customer.

A Sohio dealer station on the east side announced a $1.50 maximum gasoline purchase policy would become effective Sunday, thus limiting sales to slightly over six gallons.

The restrictions, station operators said, were necessary to stretch limited wholesale deliveries as far as possible.

A Sohio executive said the manner of rationing rested largely with the individual station operator.

Shell, Sun and other independents said they weer not limiting dents said they were not limiting sales yet.

Chief Provisions of Taft - Hartley Bill Which Goes into Effect Today

By MAX HALL
Associated Press Labor Reporter

INGTON, Aug 22—The Taft-Hartley act, most of which ect today, limits labor unions in what they can do and contracts they can get from employers.

es collective bargaining, the strike, and the strike ghly important factors in the American scene law reaffirms the "rights of employes" which have eart of the Wagner act for the last 12 years, but it sets up conditions for invoking the law to obtain those rights es the emphasis in government labor policy away from today.

contracts, however, will they expire, or in until July 1, 1948 So— the impact of the law gradual.

unions, and it changes tions of federal labor

s some new responsi- employers, as well as law is officially en- labor-management rela- 1947.

es to industries in inter- merce, and that includes manufacturing, mining munications It does not apply to railroads or airlines which are under the railway labor act nor to local enterprises like retail stores or restaurants

Some provisions went into effect June 23, when the law was enacted. The rest of it, including a wholly-revamped Wagner act.

Rights of Employes

Here are the fundamental rights of employes under the act

To form and join unions, to bargain collectively through representatives of their own choosing, and to engage in other concerted activities for mutual aid and protection

The Wagner act of 1935 gave the national labor relations board (NLRB) the job of protecting those rights.

The board, for example, could stop employers from committing certain "unfair labor practices," like discriminating against union members or refusing to bargain. It also could hold plant elections in which workers decide what union, if any, will represent them. The board still can do those things But the new version of the Wagner act in reaffirming the "rights of employes" takes these new steps

▶ Adds a new right—The right to refrain from union activities

▶ Prevents the NLRB from helping a union unless the union and all its parent bodies (CIO or AFL, for example) have filed certain information with the government, including statements from their officers swearing they aren't Communists

In addition, the new Wagner act for the first time makes unions subject to charges of "unfair labor practices"

For example starting today it is just as "unfair" for a union to interfere with the Wagner act rights of employes as it is for an employer to interfere And it is just as "unfair" for a union representing a group of workers to refuse to bargain in good faith as it is for an employer to refuse.

Has No Punishment Power

The NLRB can't punish unfair practices. It can only order them stopped. But a federal court can enforce an NLRB order—if it agrees with the board—by issuing an injunction. If the injunction is ignored, the court can fine or imprison the offender

By one method or another, the Taft-Hartley act limits unions in the following major ways.

Closed shop—From now on, it is an "unfair labor practice" for an employer to make any agreement to discriminate in favor of union members when hiring new workers.

This bans the signing or renewing of closed shop contracts (under which only union men are hired and all non-union men are fired) It bans "preferential hiring" contracts (under which union men are hired if available). It appears to ban contracts for all hiring to be done through union hiring halls

Union shop—It is also 'unfair' for an employer to make a union shop or maintenance-of-membership agreement unless the majority of all the employes have voted their approval

(In a union shop the employer can hire non-union people but then they have to join the union to keep their job Maintenance-of-membership means nobody has to join the union but those who do join must stay members or get fired).

Contract Violations — The federal courts are thrown open to suits against either unions or employers for breach of contract.

Jurisdictional strikes — These are "unfair," and the employer can sue the union and collect damages

Also they are "unfair," and can be stopped by the NLRB, first by getting a quick court injunction and then by a board order

Must Settle Disputes

Further, the board is given the job of settling the dispute between unions which led to the strike

(A jurisdictional strike usually results from an argument between different unions over whose members shall handle certain work).

Other "unlawful" strikes and boycotts—these include any union attempt to force one employer not to deal with another; a strike or boycott to force self-employed persons to join a union; and a strike to force an employer to recognize one union when another union has been certified as the bargaining representative by the NLRB.

All these things are called both "unlawful" and "unfair" and can bring damage suits and NLRB action in the same way as a jurisdictional strike.

Political activity — Unions and corporations are forbidden to make either contributions of "expenditures" in elections for federal officials. They can be fined $5,000 and their officers can be fined $1,000 and given a year in prison.

National emergencies — The President can block any big strike that imperils the national health or safety by getting a court injunction good for 80 days.

Welfare funds—Any new ones must meet certain requirements. For example they must be administered equally by the employer and union. A violation can bring a $10,000 fine and a year in prison to both the employer and the union officials.

Dues "checkoff"—Under future contracts, the payroll deduction method of collecting union dues can be used only in cases where the employe gives written permission. The penalty on the employer and union officials can be as high as $10 000 and a year in prison

"Cooling-off period"—It is 'unfair' for a union or employer to end or change the terms of an existing contract without giving a 60-day notice to the other party Employes who strike during the 60 days will lose their Wagner act rights.

Supervisors — They no longer have any Wagner act rights because they aren't considered 'employes" now. Supervisory employes can belong to unions but it is no longer "unfair' for an employer to refuse to bargain with them.

As It Affects Bosses

So much for limitations on unions

As for employers, charges of unfair practices can be filed by those unions which qualify to use the NLRB's services, or they can be filed by an individual who considers himself a victim of an unfair practice

Employers are subject to a few wrinkles, too Unions can haul them into court for breach of contract. Corporations, like unions, are curbed in making political "expenditures" through the exact meaning of that term will probably have to be settled in court.

The new law makes these important changes in government machinery).

▶ Enlarges the NLRB from three to five members, makes it almost purely a labor court, and puts the prosecution and investigation of cases in the hands of the NLRB general counsel, who will operate practically as an independent agency.

▶ Divorces the conciliation service from the labor department and gives it a new name, federal mediation and conciliation service

▶ Sets up a joint congressional labor study committee to keep watch on federal labor laws and recommend changes as necessary

TOLEDO UNIONS DARE TAFT TO RUN IN '48

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 22—Representatives of more than 100 Toledo AFL local unions challenge the constitutionality of the Taft-Hartley law's ban on political expenditures today with a quarter-page advertisement in the Toledo Times.

The Toledo Central Labor union, representative of the AFL groups, voted unanimously last night to appropriate funds to pay for the ad "daring" Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) to run for president in the 1948 campaign.

Earl Taton, president of the local AFL-Public Employes union, said the advertisement also would declare that the Central Labor group had pledged that Taft would "get the worst defeat ever given a presidential candidate" if he entered the race.

Taton, who recently led a successful movement to get the local union card of U. S. Rep Homer A. Ramey revoked, asserted that there was "no time to pussyfoot" and added, "we have nothing to be afraid of, and we should spend every penny we can get hold of to challenge the constitutionality of this (Taft-Hartley) law."

William F Sturm, regional AFL director, declared "Every labor organization in Toledo and the nation at this time must challenge the constitutionality of this law, so every member of labor organizations will know whether we are to enter a period of serfdom."

Before passing the resolution without dissent, members of the central labor group said they had received the "backing of national AFL leaders" in their move to challenge the section of the Taft-Hartley law

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself, eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Ohio Fair To Open Saturday

93rd State Exhibit To Get Under Way at 6 A. M. Tomorrow.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Aug 22—Ohio's 93rd state fair and second since the four-year wartime shutdown opens tomorrow at 6 a. m. with officials promising the biggest exhibits in history on the 128-acre midtown grounds

The seven-day show of the Buckeye state's farm and factory products not only will feature the traditional exhibits but will also include three national livestock shows, nightly dancing, a state horseshoe pitching contest, a miniature circus, and a farm lane with Ohio grown and produced farm goods on sale

Auction Set Friday

The national shows are those of the Belgian and Percheron horse and the Red Poll cattle associations The Red Poll cattle group will hold its consignment sale Friday night, when class winners will be auctioned.

Officials said that a 35 per cent increase in premiums and fair appropriations had drawn a record number of livestock and other entries Livestock premiums total $91,689, they said

Harness Races Set

Five days of harness racing for purses totaling $20,000 will be offered, along with two big grandstand shows The state fair horse show, skipped last year in the rush of getting the first postwar fair going, will be back

Music will be supplied by the 200-piece all-Ohio boys' band conducted by Dr Louis Pete of Ashland, along with 75 other bands, choruses, glee clubs, orchestras, and other organizations from all parts of the state

Officials reduced the admission price this year to 50 cents but despite an effort by Fair Manager Edwin J. Bath, the 20 per cent federal admission tax must be paid, bringing the total to 60 cents, against 75 last year.

Groceries That Sell Beer, Wine Branded Saloons by WCTU

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O, Aug 22—Grocery stories which sell beer and wine were termed "saloons" by a Women's Christian Temperance Union leader today as new fights loomed over sale of alcoholic beverages by neighborhood stores

Mrs. Mary B Ervin, Ohio W.C.T.U. president, called on members to combat an 'apparent concerted effort of the liquor interests to extend their trade by promoting sale of wine and beer in neighborhood grocery stores

In a simultaneous announcement, Lou Jacobs of Xenia, president of the Package Dealers' Association, charged W C T U members were "continually misrepresenting the facts' when seeking signatures on petitions for local option elections

"My dictionary says that a saloon is a place where intoxicating liquors are sold," Mrs Ervin said 'Recently my neighborhood store has come in that category"

Jacobs' statement pointed out that "no one in this nation is forced to drink" and added "members of our association urge that those who can not handle their beverages in proper fashion abstain"

500 MARIONITES TRY DRIVING ABIILTY TEST

Results Show Majority of Localites Are Good Drivers.

Nearly 500 persons had their driving ability tested at the wheel of the Sohio Safety Cruiser here Wednesday and Thursday under auspices of the Junior Chamber of Commerce safety program, Richard Kaiser, Sohio test expert who conducted the checks reported.

Tests showed Marionites on the whole are good drivers, Kaiser said. Steering coordination tests showed that local drivers are in the upper 30 per cent in the aggregate of all cities in which tests have been conducted. Women, it was reported by the tester, showed better eyesight than men in respect to color-blindness.

In brake reaction time, drivers here did not do quite so well, falling into the lower 40 per cent bracket, Kaiser reported. Results in the several other tests were average.

Of all drivers tested, Mrs. Stanley Moore, 24, of 755 East Church street came out the best, turning in a nearly perfect performance on the testing device, it was said. Mrs. Moore is a teacher and drives daily to school. She has been driving nine years.

New Marion Chapter Instituted By Secretaries Association

The newly organized Marion chapter of the National Secretaries association was instituted and temporary officers installed in a candlelight ceremony Thursday night in the ballroom at Hotel Harding.

Mrs. Hazel Campbell, national registrar whose home is in Kansas City, Mo., conducted the installation. Miss Vera Shepheard, a member of the Cleveland chapter, was present and gave the welcome into the association to the 43 charter members of the Marion chapter, the 14th in the state.

List of Officers

The temporary officers who will serve for a three-month period are: Miss Kathryn Burke, Universal Cooler Division, president; Miss Mary K. Miley, Marion board of education, vice president; Miss Ferol Mae Burley, Berlou Manufacturing Co., corresponding secretary; Miss Marty K. Maner, Howard Swink Advertising Agency, recording secretary; and Miss Martha J. Fabian, Economy Savings and Loan Co., treasurer.

Telegrams of welcome into the association were read from Miss Irene Gadelman of Tulsa, Okla., national president, and Mrs. Margaret Dewyr of Buffalo, N. Y., national vice president, and also from chapters in Columbus, Akron, Youngstown and neighboring towns.

The association, which is non-union, non-profit and non-political, with its members holding the ownership, has three purposes, secretarial, educational and professional. The motto is "Better Letters—Better Living."

Convention Planned

Plans are under way for a regional convention of the Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Kentucky chapters to be held in October, the place to be decided.

Monthly dinner meetings will be held by the chapter, and at the end of three months the chapter members will elect their own officers.

Mrs. Campbell, who has been in Marion the last several weeks during organization of the club, was to leave this afternoon for Syracuse, N. Y.

The charter members of the chapter, in addition to the officers, are Miss Marilyn J. Apt, Miss Helen F. Baker, Miss Elizabeth Ballenger, Miss Mary Lou Bausinger, Miss Hazel Blankenship, Miss Donna R. Cook, Miss Joan Corbin, Miss Arlue J. Detrick, Miss Mary Lou Dorfe, Miss Marjorie Ebert, Miss Josephine R. Ettore, Miss Frances Fisher, Miss Marilyn L. Garey, Mrs. Ted Gibson, Mrs. Sally Gruber, Miss Gladys Green, Miss Elizabeth Haberman, Miss Joan Judy, Miss Lois M. Kramer, Miss Corinne Lacey, Miss Maxine M. Lefever, Mrs. Geneva I. Bucyrus City Council Votes Street Repairs

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Aug. 22—At a busy Tuesday night, Bucyrus City council adopted legislation looking toward the resurfacing of Hopley avenue from Walnut street to the city limits and the remainder of the street which makes up route 19 including a block of Walnut street and one block of East Charles street.

The city agreed in the legislation to appropriate $14,000 for the job which will be supplemented by $2,000 which county commissioners have agreed to pay. The state will also assume a share of the improvement. Council also passed final legislation for levying a three per cent municipal admission tax.

Council heard a report from Contractor Howard Schieber which set the cost of Fire Department improvement at $70,000. The cost does not include furnishings and equipment. The figure includes an addition to the south side of the fire department to house the police station and city jail. The tentative plans calls for offices of the mayor, auditor, treasurer and council on the second floor. Waterworks offices would also be housed in the same building, according to the proposed plan. If council decided to proceed, citizens will be asked to approve a bond issue for the work.

GALION GROUP CONDUCTS

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 22—The 50th anniversary of the Catholic Ladies of Columbia, Branch 17, was celebrated Wednesday night, with a dinner-program at the American Legion Home. Arrangements for the celebration were in charge of Mrs. C. A. Ernest and Mrs. William R. Grebe, co-chairman. A history of the organization was given by Mrs. Ernest. The remainder of the program included vocal numbers by Catherine Chinni and Mrs. Emma Crumb; and piano selections by Joan Dougherty.

The society was organized here on Aug. 20, 1897, by a group of women of St. Patrick's and St. Joseph's parishes, and with Mrs. Mary Smalley of Toledo as officer in charge, the foundation of Branch 17 Council of the State of Ohio was formed. Later when charters were granted in states of Indiana, Kentucky and Michigan, the name was changed to Catholic Ladies of Columbia.

PHILADELPHIA'S CITY HALL HIT BY BLAST

By The Associated Press

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 22 — An explosion believed caused by a bomb shook Philadelphia's city hall today and wrecked the first floor room of the detective bureau.

First reports said only one man was injured.

The explosion caused considerable damage. Glass partitions and doors were shattered.

Deputy Chief Engineer William Simler, among the first firemen to arrive on the scene, said "something exploded in a steel locker."

Fire apparatus converged on the city hall and hundreds of persons crowded into the smoke-filled doorway.

Director of Public Safety James H. Malone was conferring with Judge Vincent A. Carroll in an office directly above where the explosion occurred.

"I was lifted right off my feet by the explosion," Judge Carroll said. "I thought the statue of Billy Penn had toppled off the tower."

The full force of the blast was centered in one of the bureau's back rooms occupied by the narcotics squad.

Detectives William Leinhauser and William Imarelli, alone in the room, were dazed by the terrific concussion—felt in buildings a block away—but escaped with nothing more serious than scratches.

Inside the room, a row of steel lockers was demolished. Filing cabinets were wrecked and choking fumes filled the corridors. There was no fire.

EGYPTIANS GO INTO RIOT OVER UN MOVE

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, Aug. 22—Thousands of riotous Egyptians, some shouting "down with America," clashed with police in demonstrations today against the trend of United Nation security council discussions on this nation's dispute with Britain.

Police seized seven followers of the Moslem brotherhood.

The acting prime minister, Ahmed Khashaba, broadcast an appeal "to every sincere patriot to help the government maintain order." The prime minister, Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashy, is at Lake Success pressing for United Nations action.

The demonstrators demanded evacuation of British troops from Egypt "by blood."

"Down with America, the traitor!" demonstrators shouted. "Down with Brazil, the traitor! Egypt defies the security council. Egypt defies the whole world."

They called also for revenge on "traitorous Egyptian police."

The Egyptians want a security council ruling on their demand for withdrawal of British troops from Egypt and an end to British participation in the administration of the Sudan. Brazil proposed at Lake Success this week that Britain and Egypt start over again on their deadlocked negotiations, and keep the council informed. The United States supported Brazil's proposal.

50 Attend Alumni Dance at Y.M.C.A.

About 50 persons attended the alumni dance at the Y.M.C.A. Thursday night. The dances will continue for at least two more weeks, persons in charge expressing the hope that interest in them can be increased.

So far no admission has been charged, but if plans for next week's program materialize it will be necessary to charge.

A plan to raise money for bringing in entertainers through donation has netted very little to date. If the fund fails to reach the necessary goal the money will be used to promote the dances in some way, dance committeemen report.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 22, 1947

Greetings, Slaves

ACCORDING to the interested parties trying to scuttle the labor management relations act of 1947, all members of labor unions in the United States now are slaves. The new law is now in full effect.

It's going to be impossible to find the slavery in it. Copies of the law are freely available to anyone who wants to read it, instead of taking the warped word of union executives and legalists who have been proposing, in effect, that the labor movement secede from the United States.

As the effective date of the law is passed and enslavement fails to materialize, it may even occur to some union members that a great deal of their money was spent to tell them something that wasn't so. The fact is that the law is a net addition to the rights laboring pepole have been accumulating in the United States since late in the 19th century.

Unionists and laboring people in general now are protected to a reasonable extent from the exploitation that flourished under laws designed to protect unionism, but which sometimes had the effect of protecting only the persons who abused unions.

The only union members with cause for grievance against the new provisions are union executives who now may be barred from practices that had grown intolerable—and their bellows and roads of indignation are proof that the shoe is pinching them beyond endurance.

Ever since the Taft-Hartley act was passed, there has been a battle for possession of men's minds—a battle that has kept truth on the defensive. Public opinion polls indicate that many persons who never read the law and know nothing about it have been fooled by the union bosses, union legalists and paid propagandists. These people are convinced that union members now are slave labor. It is going to be a surprise in the weeks and months ahead to discover that this just isn't so.

Battening Down the Hatches

THE extreme gravity of Britain's economic situation is further emphasized by her decision to discontinue accepting pounds for dollars in international trade. Britain had been accepting pounds in exchange for dollars from countries maintaining sterling pound balances in London. American dollars will buy so much more in world trade that Britain's dollar balance had been subject to heavy withdrawals since July 15 when the dollars-for-pounds exchange was reinstated for the first time since the war.

Now, nations with credit in London will have to spend their money for such exportable supplies as Britain may have. Dollars isn't one of them. This decision will seriously affect many nations doing business with Britain, especially Canada and the new nations of Hindustan and Pakistan which presumably inherit India's legacy of pounds.

In Britain's current financial difficulties, a fact easily lost sight of is that she doesn't need more dollar exchange than she did before the war. Her dollar reserve has been depleted, not by any change in her internal economy or industrial slowdown, but by the liquidation of her American assets to buy war supplies before lend-lease began to operate. In order to build up a new dollar supply, Britain must devise some means of increasing her exports without correspondingly increasing her imports. The ban on exchanging dollars for pounds is part of the effort to build up that surplus.

Why Not Both?

IF THE people who pay the taxes get confused trying to follow the politicians' reasoning on tax policy, they can be excused. The politicians are pretty badly confused too.

The way they talk about it, the United States either must pay taxes at least as high as they were during the war, or give up all hope of paying off a few billion dollars of the national debt before the next big whirlwind of deficit financing. They seem to think of it as an either-or proposition.

This kind of extremeism has put President Truman on one side of the issue, insisting on high taxes and a surplus to pay off the debt, and the Republicans on the other side, insisting on tax reduction and let debt-reduction be hanged. Why couldn't taxes be tempered to the shorn lambs and the debt be reduced too?

Furthermore, if the only way to temper taxes is to cut back the federal government's spending rate, the people who pay the taxes could bear up under the shock without twitching a whisker. Whereas public employes and their friends unfailingly make it appear that every order to trim sail is going to sink the ship of state, it never happens that way and never will. When everything else has been said in the tax argument, the people who put up the money will think peacetime taxes should be lower than wartime taxes; they are in favor of paying off part of the public debt; and they are in favor of trimming more bureaucratic fat off the federal government.

Borrower and Lender

By MARK SULLIVAN

Some U. S. Officials Stiff Toward Britain.

WASHINGTON, August 22—Toward the application for financial aid which representatives of Britain are making to our government at Washington this week, some of our officials are stiff. This attitude is natural enough, based on the simple facts.

A year and six weeks ago we loaned Britain 3 ¾ billion dollars. At the time, both Britain and the United States believed this would take care of Britain's needs for five years; it was stipulated that she would begin to repay in 1951. But now it turns out that the money is almost exhausted, by October none will be left. It is not surprising if some of our officials take the natural attitude of a lender asking for explanation from a borrower who wants more.

But another group of our officials, thoroughly informed and sincere almost to the point of frantic anxiety, say that further aid to Britain is an urgent necessity, and an immediate one. The aid must be given, they say, in a matter of weeks—or else. The "or else" they fear is not only collapse of Britain but collapse of the whole world—that universal collapse of the capitalist system which Russia talks about and expects, and out of which she hopes to bring about a Communist world.

To prevent the world from falling under Communism and Russian domination, to save as much as possible of it for democracy and free enterprise, is the purpose of our whole foreign policy. To carry out that purpose we set up the Marshall plan for recovery of the countries of western Europe.

But the Marshall plan takes time, it will be several weeks before the European countries can take the preliminary steps, and weeks more before congress can provide the necessary money. Meanwhile, unexpected and dismaying, comes threats of imminent collapse of Britain, which would make the Marshall plan futile, which of itself would throw the world into prostration.

The main reason for the immediacy of the British need has to do with the pound and the dollar, and their relative values. Most of the trade of the world is carried on in these currencies, more in the pound than in the dollar. During the war, Britain, quite reasonably, restricted much of her trade to pounds, her dependencies could carry on transactions only in that currency. As a result many countries accumulated great quantities of pounds.

Restriction to the use of pounds would be, in a normal world after post-war recovery, an unhealthy condition. To end it Britain and the United States agreed, as a stipulation of the loan we made her a year ago, that after a reasonable time Britain should make pounds interchangeable with dollars. A reasonable time was defined as one year—after July of the present year England had to give dollars to countries having pounds if they so desired. To do this was a large part of the purpose of the 3¾ billion dollars we loaned her. Britain lived up to the agreement, in July she began to give dollars for pounds.

Unlooked For Developments

But in the intervening year, unexpected conditions arose. Britain did not recover to the extent expected and hence had a limited amount of goods to sell to the world. Other countries that wanted goods had therefore little use for the pounds they had accumulated.

But every country had much use for dollars. We were the one country producing goods, especially food, for sale to the rest of the world. The world wanted what we produced and wanted dollars to pay for it. They drew on Britain's stock of dollars so rapidly that it came toward an end.

If Britain should be obligated now to say to the world: "We cannot give you dollars for your pounds" there is serious possibility that the world might begin to question the value and safety of the pound. If the pound should begin to lose purchasing power, it might lead to worldwide collapse, including large areas of famine. The danger is illustrated by India.

India has vast amounts in pounds. At present she can change her pounds into dollars, and with the dollars buy the food and other goods she must have. If she could no longer change her pounds into dollars, prostration might result. This example of India is duplicated with variations in other countries. The whole result might be the worldwide economic collapse that Russia has predicted and been waiting for.

Means of averting disaster are being discussed this week at Washington and will be discussed more fully when Secretary of the Treasury Snyder goes to London in September. One suggestion is that the United States should agree to some plan by which we would take over the burden of keeping the pound and the dollar interchangeable.

Just a Minute

This Is No Normal Religional Hazard

A Tennessee court has ruled that death due to snake-bite while handling a poisonous reptile during religious services is not an accident as envisioned in the double-indemnity clause of insurance policies.

It shouldn't have taken 12 good men to figure that one out.

Indeed, instead of the beneficiary suing for twice the face value of the policy, it seems to me the insurance company could have refused to pay anything, charging lunacy after trust.

The underwriters' code is pretty complete. But there's no provision for snake handling in their mortality tables.

The old saying, "safe as in church," doesn't mean a thing when the congregation is praising the Lord by passing the reptiles.

In the eyes of insurance companies, fondling snakes for religion is on a par with jumping down elevator shafts for recreation.

Besides, even if snakehandling is a sure way to get to heaven, who's in that big a hurry to get there?

Terror in Palestine

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

THE following is from a letter to me from a Jewish official of Palestine:

". . . Even the terrorists were willing to respond to (the United Nations) appeal (for peace), provided that the Palestine government did not carry out the sentence of death passed on the three members of the Irgun Zvai Leumi who had been involved in the Acre jail break of a few months ago . . . The Palestine administration, however, confirmed the death sentence. As a result, the Irgun threatened reprisals and on July 11 succeeded in kidnaping two members of the British forces stationed in Palestine.

"Tension was heightened on July 17, when the refugee ship 'Exodus 1947' was intercepted outside Palestine territorial waters and rammed by British naval forces. When the vessel was brought into Haifa Harbor, with its 4,500 refugees aboard, it was found that three Jews had been killed, including the first mate of the boat, a United States citizen named William Bernstein. According to the eye-witness account of Mr. Grauel, an American clergyman who had been aboard throughout the journey, Bernstein had been clubbed to death. On July 18 the refugees were transferred to deportation vessels, and on July 21 the foreign office confirmed that the people were not being sent to Cyprus, but were being returned to France 'as Cyprus had not proved a sufficient deterrent.' This action on the part of the British immediately led, as might have been expected, to a series of terrorist outrages.

Rapid Developments

"Despite the fact that the kidnapped British sergeants had not yet been located, the government announced on July 28 that the three members of the Irgun were to be hanged on the following day, and the sentence of death was duly carrid out. At this point, members of the Haganah began their own search for the kidnaped men, in order to save them from Irgun retaliation, but on July 30 the sergeants were found dead. Horrified at this action by the Irgun, the organized Jewish community determined to take strong measures to root out the terrorists, but just as they were about to carry out their plans news came that British troops or police (the military have denied that soldiers were involved) ran riot in Tel Aviv, where they machine-gunned civilians, killing five persons and wounding scores of others. . . .

"Just over a year ago, on July 29, 1946, the British arrested the leaders of the Jewish agency in an effort to discredit this internationally recognized body prior to the round table talks arranged in London during the summer of last year . . .

"British action during the last six weeks seems designed to make impossible cooperation with the authorities in the suppression of terrorism for which the British have ostensibly been calling. The deportation of the 'exodus' refugees, for example, was obviously an action which would forestall any cooperation on the part of the Jewish population in this respect. Again two of the mayors arrested were among the Jewish leaders who had drawn up a plan to root out the terror. Finally, the British must have realized that the execution of the three Irgunists, just at a time when he Haganah was trying to locate the kidnaped Britishers, was likely to be construed as provocation.

Inescapable Conclusion

"One is reluctantly forced, therefore, to the conclusion that the British are not anxious to have peace in Palestine. This attitude gives added impetus to Arab intransigence and once again, as in 1929, the Arabs feel that 'the government is with us.' The mass of the Palestinian Arabs do not want to begin with disturbances, as these proved highly unprofitable for them in 1936. But it is only natural that they should be willing to 'cash in' on the results of British policy. The Mufti, in particular, is taking every advantage of the general unrest to incite his followers to violence . . ."

This statement of facts speaks for itself and requires little comment. The British lost Ireland, India, Egypt; their influence in Malaya and Indonesia has gone because of similar situations and similar unfortunate judgments. They cannot apparently learn that other human beings prefer death to injustice.

U. S. Senator Frank B. Willis of Delaware urged congress to adopt a new law authorizing fuller development of Alaska.

Announcement was made of the awarding of a contract to John Baldauf and Sons for remodeling Salem Evangelical church on East Church street. The work was expected to cost $25,000.

Registrations opened for the baby show sponsored by the American Legion as a feature of the Marion county fair.

Sheriffs' deputies of Morrow and Knox counties surrounded a Morrow county corn field where they believed the slayer of Harry Swank, 17, of Ankneytown, was hiding.

Gov. Vic Donahey was ill of the grippe at his home at Indian Lake.

Rev. Clinton L. Allen, pastor of Calvary Evangelical church for seven years, was appointed to a pastorate in Lorain.

Boom Boomerangs

By The Associated Press

RICHMOND, Va. — Virginia spent $1,400,000 for rights of way for highways last year. A. H. Pettigrew, chief engineer said costs were excessive and that some projects were dropped because of excessive prices asked by landowners.

Traffic Problem Grows

THERE are now more cars on the road than in 1941 and they are contributing to the biggest traffic jams in history. The American Society of Planning Officials, commenting on plans by major cities to ease traffic congestion, reports almost 2,600,000 cars and trucks have been produced this year while considerably fewer old ones have been junked.

At Pearl Harbor time, 34,472,145 cars and trucks were licensed, according to the Automotive Safety Foundation. At the end of 1946, 33,945,817 vehicles were licensed, to which has been added the bigger part of this year's auto production. Since the bulk of the demand for new cars is still unmet, traffic tangles are expected to get worse.

Removal of auto travel curbs has increased traffic congestion even more. Present traffic in Milwaukee is 92 per cent greater than during the war. New York, Chicago and other cities report increases of 50 per cent or more. Indicating nationwide traffic increases, motor vehicles last year consumed 1,457 billion more gallons of gasoline than in 1941.

Not nearly as many cars are being scrapped as before the war. In 1940, 2,350,000 autos ended their service in junkyards. By 1943 that figure had dropped to 920,000. It is estimated that the 1947 total will be only about 1,000,000 since now that gasoline and tires are more plentiful people generally drive anything that moves under its own power.

Washington, D. C., is among latest additions to the growing list of cities making traffic improvements a central part of long-range development plans. Plans for reducing traffic congestion are basic to master plans newly drafted or nearing completion in Newark, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Cincinnati, Providence, San Francisco, New York, Chicago and other major cities.

Parking is the big problem. Washington's proposed parking program calls for new off-street parking facilities to care for both short-time parking and all-day parking in congested areas. Typical of plans in other cities, the program calls for fringe parking lots in the outskirts of business districts to reduce traffic on busy streets.

Some cities are limited special parking privileges to ease congestion. In downtown Richmond, Va., spaces reserved at the curb for various organizations and individuals are being opened to vehicles driven by the general public. Officials expect an 800 per cent increase in the number of vehicles these spaces accommodate once they are returned to public one-hour use.

"Equal Pay for Equal Work"

By JANE EADS

FEDERAL agencies, organized labor and women's organizations have long been working to get equal pay for women workers in private employment. They say the rate of pay given any worker should be based on the job, not on sex.

They have backed a bill to require equal pay for work "in or affecting interstate commerce." The bill, introduced by Senators Pepper and Morse, is before the Senate labor and public welfare committee. Everyone interested seems hopeful it will be passed when the 80th Congress reconvenes.

There is no federal equal pay law, though eight states have equal pay legislation. These are New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Michigan, Illinois, Montana, Washington and New Hampshire.

The women's bureau of U. S. Department of Labor has drafted a model state equal pay bill to help supporters of such legislation draw up their own state bills to abolish discriminatory wage practices directed at women.

In summarizing the bill the following points are emphasized:

Wage discrimination against women on the basis of sex is prohibited . . . enforcement powers of the state commissioner of labor are established . . . provision is made for the collection of unpaid wages . . . penalties for violations are established . . . provision is made for the maintenance of records and for reporting by employes . . . such basic terms as employer, employe, occupation are defined . . . the remainder of the law is preserved if one section is held invalid.

"Price tags have no sex differentials," says the women's bureau. "Yet, when women go out into the business, professional and industrial world, they find that a job carries one salary for a man and another for a woman."

The principle of equal pay became more firmly established during World War II. In beginning rates at least, war industries instituted equal pay. Major trade unions incorporated equal pay clauses into this contracts, and the War Labor Board ordered equal pay in dispute cases affecting thousands of women. It also permitted employers to equalize rates between men and women.

However, despite these gains, the job of integrating the principle of equal pay into the country's wage structure is far from accomplished.

I MAKE a motion we build a monument to the memory of a grafter. His name: Willi Marcy Tweed, the Tammany muscle-man who ran New York from 1869 to 1871. In these ye he nicked Father Knickerbocker for $200,000 —roughly $40,000 every working hour.

Before you throw that tomato, let me explain. Boss Tweed built Central park, a peerless playground covering 840 acres of the most valuable real estate in the world. I grant you Tweed was larceny rather than greenery. I don't like crooks any more than you do—but I do like parks. And let's face it—Tweed built New York's finest.

Did you ever read a book called "The Robber Barons?" It's about the Jay Goulds, Jim Fisks, Jay Cookes and James Hills. These free-booters stole whole counties at a time, and gave them away for tips. They threw railroad tracks around like spaghetti, until we had the mostest and bestest in the world. If they're frying in Hades it's okay with me if Mephisto slips them an occasional ice-cream cone.

THERE are crooks and crooks. There's the minor leaguer who jimmies open a window and fumbles through the bureau drawer for grandma's brooch. Then there's the crook who thinks in telephone numbers. He knows the important money is not in your house. It's in city, state or national treasury. He realizes you can't go after that kind of loot with a jimmy and a black handkerchief. You need bluepr the crinkly paper they print bonds on, and senator in your pocket. You wear a plug hat a lay cornerstones. He has learned the best to give the public the works is to give it pu works.

He gets his, but he's smart enough to lea a little, and Joe Taxpayer winds up schools, hospitals, bridges, museums, swimm pools and comfort stations.

Not continents away from where I sit, lo the seven stately skyscrapers of a Medical Ce ter. At its heart is one of the finest matern nosptals in the nation. Here, poor but deser Democrats give birth to tomorrow's voters free. The rumor is that while they were put up the hospital they had enough brick left o to build the mayor of the town a 12-sto apartment house. Only His Honor and Maker know what it cost, but I hear His Hon was not without profit in his own country. may have done wrong by the citizens, but done right by the babies. When the roll is ca Down Under, I think he rates a room v northern exposure.

Many of the men who run for office in c country should be running for the border. don't know too much about Huey Long a his Loozyanna Hayride. But some carpetbagge have told me he got a royalty on every n hammered during his administration. We maybe so, but Louisiana State Univers wouldn't be what it is if the old Kingfish had regarded the public treasury as his private pig bank. If Satan has him in a pressure cooke I suggest a small ration of spumoni.

MOST every town has had at least one mayo who high-dived into the pork barrel. S Louis had "Uncle Henry" Ziegenhein; Minne apolis, "Doc" Ames; Philadelphia, Sam Ash bridge; Pittsburgh, Chris Magee; Chicago, Joh Hopkins. They built and stole, stole and bui But while they were swiping the taxpaye bridgework, they gave him a bridge in retur

Don't get the daffy notion I'm writing t piece to whitewash grafters. I'd like it fine every town figured out what its citizens needed planned it carefully, and bought it for what should cost. But I don't think it'll happen th way until apples grow on the lilac tree. Whether we like it or not, imaginative and industri grafters have had a lot to do with building this country.

And so I say, let's build them some mon ments. If marble isn't available, we might u cheese.

To save boys the trouble of thinking up ne excuses for not mowing the lawn, these standa excuses are published herewith. Warning: U them one at a time, the way they've been us successfully ever since the invention of law mowers:

1. "The lawn mower isn't working right This means the old man will have to inspect He will make a few fumbling adjustments, t it out and mumble that something is wrong wi it, it seems to push too hard, here—you slicker take a quarter and go treat yourself at t corner drugstore.

2. "The lawn could not be mowed becau mama said to clean the basement (or t garage, or paint the fence, pick apples and on)." This is an air-tight reason, though anyo using it should be forewarned: The baseme had better be clean, or the garage, or wha ever it was he was supposed to be doing. Pa will look.

3. "It was too hot (or too cold, or it w raining)." These are usually matters of opinio but hard to challenge. It is well to be back up by a witness whose word cannot be cha lenged, such as the lady of the house: "Y brute, you wouldn't expect that little-bit wisp of a child to mow the lawn in all this he (or cold or rain as the case may be)."

4. "I forgot." This shows lack of imaginatio except on the rare occasions when it bears semblance to truth, such as a fire in the neig borhood, a major accident, the unexpected a vent of friends and relatives and other acts Providence that might actually make a mow of lawns forget his duty.

5. "I didn't think the grass was high enou to need mowing." Here is a dandy. It ties t old man in knots. It is his opinion that the la should be moved when it is this high.. and any ordinary lawn it is possible to find a pa that is just beginning to be that high. It's standoff, unless he wants to mow it himse ha, ha.

6. "I am going to mow it first thing tomorr morning." Depend on this all-weather excu It shows good intentions, with which a certa place is paved. But do not use it too often. Ulrich, Miss Audrey Bolander, and Miss Hazel Hoenstetter, all of Marion, and Mrs. Eleanor Froelich of Dayton, district supervisor of Welcome Wagon clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Staley of 220 Forest Lawn boulevard, who celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary Saturday, were honored with a surprise party in the evening when a group of relatives and friends gathered at their home. Mrs. Bertha First, a sister of Mrs. Staley, was in charge of the affair. A highlight of the evening was a long distance call from another sister of Mrs. Staley, Mrs. Mabel Broadsword of Santa Monica, Calif., a former resident of Marion.

A large decorated cake with the figure "25" on top centered the table which was decorated with a bouquet of red roses in a silver vase, sent by Mrs. Broadsword. The refreshments also included ice cream molds topped with the anniversary figures in silver. Bouquets of gladioli were placed throughout the rooms. The celebrants received a number of gifts, and the evening was spent socially. Mrs. First was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. George Augenstein.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Paul Swartz and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. George Augenstein and family and Charles Johnson.

A surprise family dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sinft near Richwood. A basket dinner was served at noon and the time was spent socially. In the evening, the entire party went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Heckathorn at Marseilles for refreshments.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Carman, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Carman and son of Alger, Mr. and Mrs. James Sinft and son, Johnnie, and Marvin and Barbara Carman of Detroit, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Heckathorn of Marseilles, C. G. Lilley and Mr. and Mrs. Metellus Sinft and daughter, Rosalie, of Richwood.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Freshour of near LaRue entertained Sunday at their home for the pleasure of Mrs. Freshour's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jay N. Lewis of Lewistown, Pa., former residents of Marion. Those present were Mrs. P. D. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Price and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Middleton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Art Riley, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Coleman and daughter and Miss Jean Davis, all of Marion, Mr. and Mrs. Zell Owen and sons of Prospect, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Freshour of East Cleveland, John L. Lewis of Springfield and George Edward Freshour of New Bloomington.

Weddings

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Eileen Collier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Collier of east of Marion, and Daniel Cocherl son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cocherl of the Barks road. The ceremony was read Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the couple's newly furnished home near Waldo by Rev. M. E. Hollensen, pastor of Emanuel Lutheran church, Marion.

A frost white two piece dress in crepe with lace at the neckline was worn by the bride, and brown accessories and elbow length pink lace mitts completed her costume. Her only jewelry was a strand of lustrous pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Pink roses formed her corsage.

Miss Grace Collier was her sister's attendant, and Lawrence Cocherl acted as best man for his brother. Miss Collier was dressed in a fuchsia suit with which she wore white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Flowers for the men of the wedding party were white carnation boutonnieres.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Collier wore a black satin backed taffeta dress, and Juliet cap with lace veil, and pink carnations to match the jeweled insets on her wide belt. Mrs. Cocherl chose blue crepe, and her corsage was of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for about 50 guests and members of the families. A three-tier wedding cake decorated with miniature bride and groom centered the table. Later in the evening, a buffet supper for the families was served at the home of the bride's parents.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cocherl attended Pleasant Township High school. Mrs. Cocherl has been employed at the Ward-Stilson Co. in Marion, and her husband, who served two and a half years in the navy, is employed at the Osgood Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kirk of Prospect are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Berenice, to Cecil Oehler, son of Mrs. Emma Oehler of Prospect. The double ring ceremony was read Saturday, Aug. 16, at 8 p. m. at the home of Rev. Paul E. Dobberstein, pastor of the Prospect Lutheran church. Attending the couple were Mrs. Cleo Schmidt, sister of the bride, and Carl Oehler, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Oehler was graduated from Prospect High school in 1946 and has been employed at the Marion Loan Co. Mr. Oehler is a graduate of Prospect High school with the class of 1944 and is now employed with the Standard Oil Co. in Marion. For the present, they are making their home in Prospect.

PLAN VACATION TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Robinson of 528 North State street, who will observe their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary next Wednesday, plan to take a short vacation trip next week, Mrs. Robinson said today. They will hold no open house event Sunday as previously reported. Because of the serious illness of a daughter, Mrs. Bart Coy, in Toledo, they plan to go there, and possibly visit other children on their trip. Mr. Robinson is engaged in the plumbing business.

WILL LEAD PILGRIMS TO SHRINE. Paralyzed since childhood, Mary Ellen Kelly of Marcus, Ia., is shown with Archbishop Francis J. L. Beckman of Dubuque, Ia., on her arrival in Chicago. Mary will lead 100 invalids in a visit to Chicago's St. Peter's church for a Solemn Benediction before they leave for Montreal. There after a grand Novena at St. Joseph's Oratory and a visit to the Shrine of Our Lady of the Holy Rosary and the famed Basilica of St. Anne de Beaupre in Quebec, they hope to be able to cast aside their wheelchairs and crutches and to walk again.

OPPOSES STYLES. In Dallas, Texas, Mrs. Warren J. Woodward, 24, pulls her skirt to the proper height as she announces formation of her "Little Below the Knee" club, composed of women who oppose the long skirt now coming in style. To further her crusade Mrs. Woodward plans to have the LBKC parade in Dallas.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Bacon of 434 West Columbia street had as their guest this week a niece of Mrs. Bacon, Mrs. Floy Holme and her daughter, Miss Charlotte Holme, of Miami, Fla.

NEWLYWEDS HONORED

At a meeting of United Grange to be held Tuesday at 8:30 p. m. in the Grange hall, a miscellaneous shower will be held for Mr. and Mrs. John Paul Lawrence, who were recently married. The program will consist of musical numbers and a talk on "Life and Customs in England" by Mrs. Kenneth Clary.

EDISON CYCLIST HURT

Wilson Amick, 24, of Edison, suffered cuts on the elbows when he spilled from his motorcycle on route 61 near the Crawford and Morrow county line at 6 a. m. today, according to the state patrol. The cycle was damaged considerably.

Farmer Passes Away After Illness of Month.

Frank Wilson, 77, farmer of [illegible] township, died in his home at 4:45 p. m. Thursday. He had been in ill health about a month.

Born April 1, 1870, in North Hampton, Clark county, he was a son of Joseph V. and Eliza Hanson Wilson, the father a native of Massachusetts and the mother of Virginia. Dec. 15, 1889, he married Cordelia Imbody at Green Camp. He was a member of the Green Camp Methodist church.

Surviving with his widow are a daughter, Mrs. Gladys Smeltzer of Marion, a brother, E. S. Wilson of near Marion, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Moore of Bellville.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. in the Merle H. Hughes mortuary on Mt. Vernon avenue by Rev. F. Melvin Wagner, pastor of the Green Camp and Waldo Methodist churches. Burial will be in Marion cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after Saturday noon.

REFUGEES DEFY BRITISH DEMAND

By The Associated Press

PORT DE BOUC, FRANCE, Aug. 22—Some of the 4,400 Jewish refugees aboard three British transports anchored off this port declared today they would defy a British ultimatum requiring them to disembark in France by tonight or be transported to a displaced persons camp in Germany.

British consular officials, who delivered the ultimatum yesterday, said a Jewish spokesman on one of the transports—the Ocean Vigour—told them the passengers on that vessel would not land. The deadline fixed by the British was 5 p. m.

There was no immediate response from the Jews aboard the other two ships, but they previously had insisted that they would leave the transports voluntarily only in Palestine.

Mansfield GI Buys $180 Housing Solution

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 22 — Glennon Knackstedt, 27-year-old Mansfield veteran, bought a housing problem solution for $180 today.

That's the sum he paid the Mansfield board of education for a six-room frame house which must be moved from the site for a new school within the next 30 days.

Glennon plans to build himself a five-room house from the lumber of his $180 purchase.

No Trace of Missing Child; Reward Planned

of a number of neighbors and Waldo residents.

Although the river was checked thoroughly Wednesday and Thursday the return to the stream this morning seemed to be a desperation move on the part of the father, who yesterday was told by a Marion fortune teller that the river should be searched further.

Overlooking No Possibility

Both Mr. and Mrs. Peterson said this morning they considered the fortune teller's story contradictory. Nevertheless they are leaving no possibility unchecked.

Mrs. Peterson said they were given assurance the child was safe, but that they should look again along the river. "You'll find her curled up and safe," they quoted the fortune teller as saying.

They considered this statement contradictory as well as the fortune teller's intimation that "a woman was involved" in the child's disappearance.

"I'm not too strong for fortune tellers," Mrs. Peterson said this morning. "But this has given me new hope. I was pretty weak about this yesterday but today I'm stronger. I would just like to get my hands on any women that stole my baby," she continued.

Mrs. Peterson expressed fear this morning that if the child had been stolen by a woman the snatcher might cut her long blond curls in an effort to hide her identity.

The mother has taken great pride in her baby's curls and regularly placed her hair in curlers.

Child Likes Music

Sitting in the living room of her home this morning with the radio playing Mrs. Peterson recalled that Carolyn seemed to get so much pleasure from music. Mr. Peterson plays the piano, she said, and had taught the child to keep time to music. She even tried dance, the mother said.

This morning the three other Peterson children, the oldest is six ,and neighbor children were playing as usual in the yard from which Carolyn disappeared. They were unaware of the tragedy which had descended on the home.

Inside the house Mrs. Peterson was talking to Mrs. LeRoy Bender, a friend and neighbor, who has been an almost constant companion since the child disappeared. Mrs. Bender spent last night at the Peterson home. About 7 o'clock she returned to her own home on route 23, about a mile directly west of the Peterson home. The homes are connected by the Donithen road, which has figured prominently in the disappearance.

After setting things in order at home Mrs. Bender returned to the Peterson home.

At her own home this morning Mrs. Bender said she thought Carolyn was the "cutest child she had even seen." Both the parents, she said, were "crazy about their children."

General Conclusion

Waldo residents generally had arrived at the conclusion today that one of three things happened to the child—(1) that she was hit by a car or truck on the road and the body picked up and carried away by a fear-stricken driver; (2) that a childless woman had stolen her, and (3) the slight possibility of a sex crime.

Bob Coleman, Waldo blacksmith, one of the first to reach the Peterson home after the child was reported missing, said he believed the child had been stolen by some one driving along the road.

Coleman was one of several who spoke highly of the child's father. "I've known Pete for a long time, although I never was acquainted with Mrs. Peterson," he said. Mr. Peterson was reared in the Waldo vicinity and has always lived there.

Coleman said the father was a hard worker and a good provider.

Reports Thorough Search

As one of the nearly 100 men who scoured the area in the vicinity of the house, Coleman said there was no spot within at least a half mile of the home that had not been searched thoroughly. He related that 75 men abreast had covered the area on both sides of the house. Coleman also aided in wading the Olentangy river and Ququa ditch yesterday.

Both streams were reported to have risen last night as a result of rains in that vicinity yesterday.

Jack Augenstein, a private pilot of Waldo who owns his own plane, returned to the search this morning. He flew repeated over the area within a mile radius of the house. Augenstein, Archie Reynolds and Russell Rider, all of Waldo, have been flying over the area since the child was first reported missing.

Numerous Calls to Sheriff

Sheriff Retterer said this morning that within a few hours after publication of newspaper accounts and radio broadcasts of the child's disappearance reports started coming into his office from persons who believed they might have seen the "kidnap car."

One reported a yellow car parked at the St. Paul's parish house, just west of route 98 and about four miles north of the Peterson home. A check by officers revealed no further trace of the car. The car was reported to have carried an out of the state license.

A call from a Columbus man telephoned to the office reported seeing a car traveling north on route 98 at a high rate of speed about noon Wednesday.

The yellow car clue is based on a story told the sheriff and the parents by 3-year-old Carl Edward Peterson who was playing with his sister when she disappeared. The boy said he saw a man get out of a yellow car near the house. So far as could be determined this was believed to have been about the time the child disappeared.

Only Two Clues

This and the finding of a coffee pot lid the children used as a toy are the only clues turned up in the investigation. The toy was found at the intersection of the Donithen road, toward which the Cocherls said the child was toddling. Their report placed her a short distance from the intersection.

Sheriff Retterer said today the FBI was being kept posted on developments in the case. The federal agency, however, cannot enter the investigation until there is some definite clue that the child has been removed across the state border.

"However, the agency will be kept informed," the sheriff said, "so that it will have the background should any development bring it into the search."

50 Hurt as Theater Roof Sags, Collapses

By The Associated Press

MEADVILLE, Pa., Aug. 22—A collapsing ceiling injured 50 persons, at least two critically, as it fell with a roar during a motion picture at this northwestern Pennsylvania community's park theater.

Twenty-eight of those injured last night were crowded into Meadville's two hospitals.

Leo Conrad, theater manager, said about 1,000 persons were in the theater when a section of steel mesh and plaster 20 by 25 feet in area mushroomed downward and then dropped, showering patrons with debris and dust and partially covering several victims.

Tiro Sports Surplus Of Fire Chiefs But Lacks Even 1 Truck

By The Associated Press

TIRO, O., Aug. 22—This Crawford county community today had two fire chiefs, but no fire truck.

The village, county and Auburn township trustees this week organized a volunteer fire department to serve both the town and township and appointed M. C. Gooding as chief.

Lloyd Miller, who has been chief of the Tiro volunteer fire department since 1926, declined to resign.

"Mr. Gooding can take care of the fires outside of the town, but I'll take care of those in town," he remarked.

The town and township officials will meet and try to solve the problems.

A new fire engine has been promised in September.

tributed in the plant to the night shift workers Thursday night and to the day shift Friday morning.

Two Organizers Arrive

Meanwhile two topranking organizers of the UAW have arrived in Galion to assist organizer Edward Duck in conducting the strike. They are Thomas Kinney, vice president of the CIO State Council and Orville Beemer of Toledo.

In a statement to the press last night Duck issued a challenge to the management to participate in a public debate on the question involved in the strike "anytime, anyplace."

It was reported from union headquarters this morning that a number of office employes had signed union cards today. Duck stated that if a majority of the office employes sign up, the union would extend the demands by production workers to include the office force.

Picket Line Grows

The picket line was formed about 3 p. m., Wednesday, shortly after the meeting of some 250 to 300 employes who voted to strike until a union contract is signed by the company. While the line was small at first with more than 20 in it Wednesday evening, there were about 250 at 6 a. m., Thursday. Later in the day the line decreased.

At a residence on Railroad street near the plant where the union has established headquarters, a "soup kitchen" has been set up.

Company officials still declined to comment, today, and no statement is expected to come from the management this week. A spokesman for the company said that no papers or strike notice has been given company officials.

Placards Posted

Strike placards appeared around the plant, Thursday, indicating that the workers are on strike.

Shortly after the strike was voted, Mayor William Amann was notified that picketing of the plant would take place and that the picketing would be peaceful, and good conduct maintained.

Duck, UAW representative, said today that offers to help the pickets in conducting the strike have come from union workers in Mansfield, Marion and two Galion plants.

It is understood that the monthly payroll of the company is one of the largest of any plant in Galion. L. J. Davis, secretary-treasurer, who has declined to make any statement at this time, said he could not give exact figures of the payroll for the Galion workers without considerable research because the total payroll is made out for workers of the company's three plants, the other two being located at Kenton and Mt. Gilead. He said that all records are in the plant which is now closed.

Production workers at the mass meeting, Wednesday afternoon in the Maccabee hall on the public square, by standing voted unanimously to close the plant and keep it closed until a signed contract with the union is received by the company, and a substantial pay increase is made. The UAW spokesman said that a 35-cent raise is the least workers will accept. They expect a hike to start at that figure up to 60 cents.

When employes took a vote by secret ballot on Aug. 6, 220 workers favored a demand for immediate recognition of Local 750 as bargaining agent or refusal to work. Seven of this number, the UAW spokesman said, voted to shut down if it took six months for a settlement, and none voted in favor of having no union and doing nothing about anything.

A guard, plant engineer, one official and his secretary, were the only persons who entered the plant, Thursday.

Columbus Picks Queen For Sesquicentennial

RUSS REJECT PLEA TO SAVE BULGARIAN

By The Associated Press

SOFIA, BULGARIA, Aug. 22—Russia's representative on the allied control commission today rejected the United States demand for a review of the death sentence of Nikola Petkov, top-ranking anti-Communist leader.

Petkov was sentenced last Saturday to die as a conspirator against the Communist-dominated Fatherland Front government. No date has been announced for the hanging.

The United States denounced his arrest and trial, and four days ago the United States and Britain sought a review of the sentence.

The rejection was announced by Lt. Gen. Alexander Cherepanov, Soviet member and acting deputy of the commission.

Petkov, leader of the Agrarian party and one of the signers of the Bulgarian armistice, also was given a 15-year prison sentence and fined on conviction of responsibility for an indictment of the government which appeared in the Agrarian newspaper. The court chairman said the conviction might be appealed within seven days to the supreme court. The seven days would be up tomorrow.

The American and British demands for a review were made in letters to Cherepanov.

Both the Americans and the British urged Cherepanov to instruct the Bulgarian government to suspend the sentence until the commission had full opportunity to review the case.

Average Family Is Paying 32 Per Cent Higher Grocery Bill

By The United Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 — The agriculture department said today the average family spent 32 per cent more for food in mid-June this year than it spent in mid-June, 1946, when price controls still were in effect.

It said the annual "market basket" cost for the average family, based on mid-June prices was $036 as compared with $481 a year earlier. The jump was paced by a 76 per cent hike in retail meat prices. Costs of certain foods, such as salad and cooking oils, declined somewhat.

At the same time, the labor department reported that wholesale prices edged up another 0.3 per cent last week to a new postwar high. The prices were only 8½ per cent below the all-time peak reached in May 1920. The rise was attributed mainly to a sharp seasonal increase in the most of dairy products.

The agriculture department said the farmer received only 52 cents out of every consumer dollar spent for food in June as compared with 56 cents of every dollar spent for food in June, the highest in over 26 years and exceeded only in the eight months January through September, 1920," the department said.

It added, however, that the average purchasing power per person now is much higher than during the World War I peak although it conceded some individual consumers may be "at an even greater disadvantage than during World War I."

The average family in June, 1047, spent at an annual rate of about $182 for meat as compared with $103 a year earlier, the department said. Of this $79 increase, $47 was returned to the farmer in the form of higher livestock prices while $22 went for higher marketing charges and $10 to replace government subsidies.

Retail dairy prices increased 17 per cent, poultry and eggs 20 per cent, bakery and cereal products 27 per cent, canned fruits and vegetables 37 per cent and miscellaneous food products 52 per cent. Fresh fruits and vegetables dropped five per cent.

result of the accident and passing motorists pulled him from his car while it was smoking.

The truck was driven by Charles F. Horn, 21, of Upper Sandusky and was owned by the Economy Auto Supply of Upper Sandusky. He was arrested by the patrol and fined $10 and costs in municipal court this morning on a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way at an unmarked crossing to the vehicle approaching from the right. He pleaded guilty.

Lauer suffered cuts and bruises on the knees and body and was taken to Dr. Gray in Prospect for treatment. Horn also suffered cuts and bruises.

Fire, starting after the crash, completely burned the upholstery of the Lauer car. Other motorists used a fire extinguisher from the truck and succeeded in putting out the blaze.

Faithful Mississippians To Pay Final Respects To Senator Bilbo

By The Associated Press

POPLARVILLE, Miss., Aug. 22—Mississippians, who never deserted Theo C. Bilbo under the fire of outside criticism of his racial beliefs, planned their final respects today for the state's most spectacular political figure.

The arrangements would have been to the liking of the 69-year-old senator-elect who died at New Orleans yesterday after a long illness which began with cancer of the mouth and became complicated by inflammation of the nerves, partial paralysis and a blood clot in the lungs.

The body was to be brought to Poplarville to lie in state this afternoon and tonight at Bilbo's "dream house."

A detachment of the Mississippi National Guard was ordered by Gov. Fielding L. Wright to stand as a guard of honor for the man who served as state senator, lieutenant governor, twice as governor, and who was elected to the United States senate three times.

Arrangements Completed

At 10 a. m. tomorrow, the casket will be taken into the nearby Juniper Grove Baptist church and lie there until 2 p. m., when funeral services will be conducted by Rev. D. W. Nix of Baton Rouge, La., a former pastor of the church.

Bilbo will be buried in the church cemetery, near his parents.

Bilbo's death ended without decision "The Man's" last political fight—an effort to take his seat in the senate despite bi-partisan opposition from those who charged that he was unfit for the post.

He was accused of intimidating Negroes in a move to keep them from voting in the 1946 Democratic primary election when he was nominated for a third term. A senate committee which held hearings at Jackson, Miss., divided—three Democrats voting to find Bilbo innocent and two Republicans filing a minority report which held him guilty.

Another committee, after hearings at Washington, reported that the evidence "clearly indicates that Senator Bilbo improperly used his high office as a United States senator for his personal gain in his dealings with war contractors."

The committee accused him of accepting "gratuities or benefits" of between $57,080 and $88,721.

Battle Developed

As the 80th congress convened, a two-day battle over Bilbo developed, with the Republican majority attempting to refuse to seat the senator and with a group of southern Democrats starting a filibuster.

A compromise was reached under which Bilbo was allowed to draw his senate salary and allowances while he underwent treatment for his cancer. A showdown vote was delayed until his health would permit him to return to claim his seat.

Bilbo always insisted that he would carry on the fight if he lived. And if he died, he declared, he would "go back (to Washington) and haunt the hell out" of his enemies.

The election of a successor to Bilbo may bring a chapter in Mississippi politics as exciting as any of those in which "The Man" was a principal.

THEODORE G. BILBO, Mississippi senator, came in the end of his turbulent career Thursday when death claimed him in a hospital at New Orleans.

Marion Hobby Club Visits Observatory

Members of the Marion Hobby club and guests met at the Perkins observatory near Delaware Thursday night. A talk was presented by a member of the observatory staff on meteors, and explanation of the large telescope was made. Those of the visiting party were permitted to look through a small, five-inch telescope. The party was made up of 41 persons.

The Hobby club holds its regular meetings at the Y.M.C.A.

FAMILY REUNIONS

UNDERWOOD

Forty members of the Underwood, Shuey and Sergeant families were present for the sixth annual reunion held Sunday, Aug. 17, at the home of Floyd Underwood. Officers elected for the new year are Harley Klinefelter, president, Floyd Underwood, vice president, Hazel Shuey, secretary and treasurer, and Mrs. Paul Zachman, assistant.

MOORE

The twenty-first reunion of the Moore family was held Sunday, Aug. 10 at the Richwood fairgrounds. Forty-five relatives and friends were present from Richwood, Delaware, Marion, Findlay, Weston, Galion, and Claiborne. Officers were elected for the new year as follows: Earl Moore of Marion, president; Mrs. Lena Moore of Richwood, vice president; and Mrs. Ruth Mosher of Marion, secretary and treasurer. During the afternoon, guitar music was provided by Merwyn Mosher and Glenn Robinson. The 1948 reunion will be held the second Sunday in August at Gasts Grove in Prospect.

Song Service Set At Mt. Zion Baptist Church

Two groups of singers will be presented at the Mt. Zion Baptist church at 200 Senate street Sunday afternoon in a musical program publicized as "the song battle of the century." Presenting numbers in song will be the Five Golden Voices group of Birmingham, Ala., and the Southland Singers of Canton, O. The program will be at 3 o'clock. Proceeds from the program will go into a benefit fund to place basement rooms under the church, of which Rev. J. C. Collins is pastor.

An attendant is assigned to collect and destroy all doodles left by United Nations committee members.

Galion City Council Hears Power Report

Special to The Star

GALION, Aug. 22 — While no action was taken by Council, at its regular meeting, Tuesday night, upon recommendations presented in the 33-page report on municipal power plant, improvements made by Burns and McDonnell, consulting engineers of Kansas City, Mo., Mayor William Amann announced that the meeting of council and committees will be held Monday night. It is expected that one or more representatives of the engineering firm will be here at that time to make a thorough study of the report with council.

Council was informed by letter that the Standard Oil company cannot furnish diesel oil at this time. This will be a fact to be considered by council in its choice of either hooking up with outside power or installing diesels to solve Galio's problem of inadequate electric power.

First steps were taken by council toward purchase of parking meters. A motion authorized the city solicitor to draw up necessary legislation for the service director to advertise for bids.

A resolution passed by council asks for $10,000, from the county auditor for the general fund because there is now insufficient funds to defray current operating expenses and pay $9300 now due on new fire truck which was recently delivered to the city.

Club Stockholders To Meet Wednesday

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Marion Country club Holding company will be held at the Country Club Wednesday, Aug. 27, at 8:30 p. m. Two directors are to be elected.

OHIO'S SCHOOL LUNCH CONTRACTS ENDED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 22—Because of a 26 per cent cut in federal funds for the program, the state department of education today canceled its school lunch contracts and notified school superintendents new ones must be negotiated for the coming school year.

Dr. R. M. Garrison, chairman of elementary and secondary education, said no funds would be available for purchase of new lunch room equipment. In reimbursements to schools for actual outlays for pupils' lunches, Garrison added, "increased emphasis will be placed on need and attendance."

Application forms for new contracts already have been sent out. Ohio's appropriation under the national school lunch program this year is $1,600,679, or 26.6 per cent under the amount received last year.

JOHN ABLE TO CONFER DEGREE HERE SEPT. 28

Will Return For Ceremony At Eagles Hall.

John A. Abel, former Marion resident, now chief auditor of the Fraternal Order of Eagles with offices in Kansas City, Mo., will confer the degree of past president on Otto Eibling Sept. 28, it was announced at last night's meeting in Eagles hall.

About 65 persons attended. Two applications for membership were read. They will be initiated with the Otto Eibling class Sept. 28.

All past presidents will be invited to attend this Buckeye Area 37 meeting.

Plans for the family picnic at Crystal Lake park Sept. 7 were read by Gene Williams, general chairman.

A luncheon was served following the meeting by the social committee of which Sam McDougal is chairman.

Pastor To Preach Gallilean Sermon From Boston River

A Gallilean service, in which Rev. Garrison Roebuck, pastor of First Evangelical United Brethren church, will preach from a boat, has been planned by the congregation for Sunday night. The service will be held at Robinson's camp about a mile below Newman's bridge, on the west bank of the Scioto river, and will be open to the public, it was announced. A local quartet will sing from a boat. Rev. Roebuck's subject will be "Workers Together With Christ."

Sunday morning at the church, Rev. Roebuck will preach his last sermon of the conference year. His subject will be "The Race of Life." Services of the remaining Sunday before annual conference, Aug. 31, will be communion at the morning worship hour, while that evening, the union service for Marion churches will be held at the church. Annual sessions of the Sandusky conference of the United Brethren branch of the Evangelical United Brethren church, will be held Sept. 2-5 at the new conference camp site at Lake St. Marys. Mrs. Ruth Brown is lay member delegate from First church, and Mrs. Clara Hildreth is alternate. The conference council of administration will meet Sept. 1. Both Rev. Roebuck and Hugh Kirkwood Jr. of Marion, members of the council, expect to attend council session.

SCHOOL AT MORRAL TO OPEN SEPT. 2

Half-Day Session Will Launch New Term.

Morral High school opening for the school year has been set for Tuesday, Sept. 2, at 9 a. m., with a morning session only, William Harrington, superintendent, announced. He will be at the schoolhouse Saturday morning, Aug. 30, to assist any pupils wishing to change their schedules, or new students who wish to register, he stated.

There are still openings in the high school faculty staff for commercial teacher and music teacher, Mr. Harrington said. Those on the faculty include, besides Mr. Harrington who has charge of seventh and eighth grades, Mrs. Gertrude Bosley, first and second; Mrs. Ruth Rutter, third and fourth, Miss Helen Sloat, fifth and sixth, Mrs. Mary Alice Price, home economics and physical education; Miss Mildred Ellington, French and English; Robert McFarlan, science and mathematics, and assistant coach; and Norman Weston, social studies, physical education and coach.

ACCEPTS COACHING JOB

GALION, Aug. 22 — John F. Burnison, Galion boy and former Galion High school athletic coach, has accepted a position as football coach at Dundee, Ill., after two years of coaching at Cambridge. He will be accompanied by Casto Ramsey, another Galion boy who has been Burnison's assistant at Cambridge.

HALLELUJAH WINS 3 IN SHORTENED RACES

Takes All Heats in First Run; Evening Program Rained Out

Rain cut short the speed program at the county fair yesterday with the evening card of three events washed out completely forcing a revision of today's program which now comprises four events.

Added to the final days program were the 24 pace and the 17 pace both for purses of $500. Both were scheduled for last night. The 24 trot scheduled for last night went by the board as did the 12 pace, scheduled as the third event on today's card. The first and second races, the 2 year-old trot and 2 year-old pace, both stake races each for a purse of $1,200 remained on the card.

In the first race yesterday, the 3 year-old pace, Walter Dispanett drove Hallelujah of the Parley Acres Farm here for three firsts. After finishing fifth in the opening heat Josedale Main owned and driven by William Butler of Richmond, Ind. came back to finish second in the last two heats. Hallelujah paid $2.60, $2.40 and $2.40.

In the 20 trot, the second event, Dispanett driving his own brown gelding, Senator Grattan, took the second and third heats after dropping the first heat to J.H.T. owned by Henry Adams of Richwood and driven by Drumm. J.H.T. paid $8.40 and Senator Grattan $4 and $2.20.

As of yesterday's races Dispanett in 15 starts has driven winners home in 12 and finished second in three. He took three straight in the 19 trot Tuesday, three straight in the 16 trot Wednesday and three straight in the three-year-old pace yesterday. In the 15 pace Wednesday, Dispanett took a first and two seconds for his worst showing so far here, and in the 20 trot yesterday came back for two firsts and a second.

In spite of threatening weather which produced rain late yesterday afternoon, the track attendance continued to maintain its above average record for the county fair race program. A large attendance for the final program this afternoon was predicted by track officials.

Smitty's Shut Out Cooler, 5-0 To Wind Up Night Loop Play

Smitty's Grill shut out Universal Cooler, 5-0, at Crystal Lake to cap the Night league season and finish in first place with a record of eight won and one lost.

Another scheduled game did not materialize as Fairfield failed to show for Shanty Town Bar.

Ending of regular league play finds the league in a dilemma. League organization calls for a play-off between the top four teams at the close of the regular season, and as it turned out five teams are in top spots. Huber, Universal Cooler, Marion Power Shovel and Schlairet, each with a 6-3 record, finished tied for second place. League commissioners will have to decide what's to be done.

Last night's game was featured by one of the most spectacular fielding plays ever made at Crystal Lake park. All spectators kissed the ball goodbye when Reid lined to deep center, but Bob Wintersteller, playing the field, snagged it after a long run and a leap into the air.

Sunday Smitty's Maids will play Wilke's Meats of Columbus, a state tourney finalist this season, at Crystal Lake at 8 p. m. They beat Marion, 4-0 earlier this season.

Smitty's All-Stars travel to Fostoria to play Fostoria K. of C. at 2:30 p. m. and will return to play a nightcap at Crystal Lake. Harold Dillion and Richard Mulvaine have been added to the All-Star roster.

GAMES RAINED OUT

Rain forced postponement of scheduled industrial league softball games last night. Ohio Associated Telephone had been booked with McMillen Feeds, General Excavator against Osgood, Commercial Steel with Pollak, and Ohio Public Service with Quaker Oats.

Grid Drills Open At Bucyrus High School

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Aug. 22 — Fifty football players responded to the first call issued by Head Coach Al Pesek and were on hand to receive equipment and have their first workouts Wednesday. Pesek will work out the Redmen twice daily until the opening of school Sept. 2.

Changing from the former practice of working out on the playing field, arrangements have been made to work out in other locations to assure a better field condition for games. Lane street softball field and Harmon playgrounds are to be used as practice fields.

Sixteen lettermen reported for the first workout and will be nucleus about which the team will be built. Returning lettermen are Tom Boyle, Jerry Gabriel, Bill and Dick Kibler, Paul Truka, Bob Dutcher, Jim Ball, Bill Huggins, Eugene Grove, Larry Morton, Dick Johns, Gene Smith, Tom Tehnor, Jim Warnock, Del Craner, Charlie Stauffer and Fritz Michael.

2nd Little Brown Jug Pace Tops Delaware Race List

By The United Press

DELAWARE, Aug. 22—A blue-ribbon program for the five-day Grand Circuit harness racing meet at Delaware fairgrounds Sept. 15-19 was announced today, topped by the second pacing of the $40,000 Little Brown Jug.

The nation's top trotters and pacers will race for $95,000 in stakes and overnight events during the short meeting over the fast Delaware half-mile oval.

A crack field of about 15 three-year-old pacers will go in the Jug, which in its second year has already become a classic for pacers. Leading candidates for the crowd won last year by Ensign Hanover are Forbes Chief, Poplar Byrd and Goose Bay, all of which have neared the two-minute mark this season.

Officials have arranged for an additional 5,000 seats to accommodate a crowd to exceed the 20,000 who saw the first running of the Little Brown Jug a year ago.

Aside from the Jug the top races on the program are the Old Oaken Bucket, a $5,000 stake for trotters, and a free-for-all trot.

Doc Parshall To Drive Again in Grand Circuit

By The Associated Press

GREENVILLE, O., Aug. 22 — Dr. H. M. "Doc" Parshall, noted harness driver, will return to the Grand circuit this year after a war-time lay-off.

The Urbana reinsman announced yesterday that he had been engaged to train and drive for the Midwest stables of W. R. and E. J. Hayes at Duquoin, Ill., succeeding Houston Stone.

LIMA ELIMINATED

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 22—Pikeville, Ky., eliminated Lima, O., from further competition in the National Semi-Pro Baseball tournament last night, winning a 2-1 twilight battle.

Amazing Athletics Steal Third Place from Detroit

By The Associated Press

The 1947 major league season has produced many surprises, but the most confounding of all has been the amazing brand of baseball produced by the Philadelphia Athletics.

Picked almost unanimously to finish last in the American league race, Connie Mack's commiserated Athletes climaxed a stubborn fight to stay in the first division today by wresting third place away from the Detroit Tigers.

The Mackmen are only a game and a half behind the defending champion Boston Red Sox who occupy second place 13 games back of the league-leading New York Yankees.

One of the reasons for the A's showing has been the work of their young pitchers, Joe Coleman, Carl Schieb and Bill McCahan. Another has been the great all-around playing of rookie first baseman Ferris Fain and outfielder Barney McCosky.

3 Collaborate

McCahan, McCosky and Fain collaborated last night to lead the A's to an 8-5 victory over the Browns in St. Louis.

The Cards not only lost ground to the Dodgers in splitting with the Phils but also lost the services of their star outfielder Enos Slaughter, who was carried off the field on a stretcher with a concussion. He collided with shortstop Bernie Creger. He was expected to be back in the lineup in several days.

The Phils, behind lefty Oscar Judd won the opener 9-2, but the Cards came back to win the nightcap 13-3.

Braves Move Up

The third place Boston Braves moved within six and a half games of first by taking the measure of the Chicago Cubs twice in Boston, 8-2 and 6-4. Johnny Sain of Boston set some kind of a record for pitchers when he singled as a pinch hitter to extend his consecutive hitting string to 14 games.

The White Sox nipped the Red Sox, 3-2, in Chicago staving off a ninth inning threat when Dom DiMaggio slammed into a game-ending double play.

Washington snapped its 11-game losing streak with a vengence as they thumped the Tigers twice in Detroit, 3-2 and 5-3. The double win came following a players' vote of confidence in Manager Ossie Bluege after reports of a rift between players and Bluege.

The New York Giants won over Pittsburgh, 4-1 at the Polo grounds on Cliff Hartung's two-hitter.

Dayton Wins Only League Ball Game

By The Associated Press

Rain postponed games at Springfield and Newark Thursday night, but Dayton took Richmond, 8-5, in the only regularly scheduled game of the Ohio State league.

Muncie and Springfield had scheduled a previously postponed game for last night, as had Lima at Newark.

Kenneth St. Pierre, left-handed hurler for the Richmond Roses, who started the season by building a spectacular 11 win and 2 loss record before developing a sore arm, was removed in the second inning. Reports from Richmond said it might have been his appearance this season.

Umps Work Overtime Heaving Reds As Bums Clip Cincy, 8-1

By The Associated Press

BROOKLYN, Aug. 22—The Cincinnati Reds prepared for another setto with the first-place Brooklyn Dodgers today hopeful that their only first-line catcher, overworked Ray Lamanno, keep in the good graces of the umpires.

Lamanno, on full-time duty while Ray Mueller nurses a broke toe, got the heave-ho from arbiter Jocko Conlan at the start of the fifth inning here yesterday, and before the Brooklyns finally were retired they had scored four times on three hits, three stolen bases, a wild pitch, a passed ball and an error, and then went on to win, 8-1.

The Dodgers extended the lead to five games as St. Lou split with Philadelphia.

Cincinnati pitchers Johnn Vander Meer and Bucky Walte who got too rambunctious bench jockeys, also were throw out of the park by ump Lou Jorc in the sixth.

Arky Vaughan started off t Brooklyn fifth with a single the second hit off Ewell Black well, who was trying for his 20t win. A moment later, Conla called a balk on Blackwell, wave Vaughan to second.

Lamanno, who lost 12 poun catching a doubleheader last Sur day, roared off his haunche protested so vigorously that Cor lan ordered his eviction. Hug Poland, the rookie who normall works in the bullpen, became th Redleg catcher.

The Reds got their run in th second as Augie Galan was sa at first on Robinson's error, se to third as Lamanno singled an scored on Bobby Adams' long fl

Yankees Spill Indians, 9 to 3

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 22 — The Cleveland Indians' campaign for a first division spot in the American league was stymied momentarily today by the league-leading New York Yankees.

Don Black, seeking his 11th triumph, was treated rudely by the visiting Bronx Bombers before 31,800 stadium fans last night as the Yankees shelled him from the mound and coasted to an easy 9-3 victory over the Tribe to snap Cleveland's five-game winning streak.

Tommy Henrich of Massillon, O., started the damage in the first inning with a mighty triple which scored Phil Rizzuto, and the Yankee right-fielder tallied a moment later on a long fly to give New York a lead which it never relinquished.

The Tribe tallied three runs in the seventh with the aid of two Yankee errors, but were out of the ball game the rest of the way.

Bob Feller will make another attempt to notch his 15th victory tonight in the nightcap of a twi-night doubleheader against New York.

Aides are Kenny Somerlot, who will be backfield coach this year, Harold Thomas, line coach, and George Keel, Darl Gatchel, George Whitehead and John Luginduhl. One more appointment to the Harding team is yet to be made and the other three coaches will be assigned to the junior high schools. All of these coaches will be prepping the high school until the junior high practices start.

Gene Fetter headed the first St. Mary sessions. Forest Sharrock and Martin Lewis have been named assistants. Sharrock will handle the backs, Lewis the line.

First day for both schools involved getting the feel of things and brushing up on fundamentals.

12 Lettermen for Harding

Harding this year has 12 lettermen returning. They are Robert Ralston, regular tackle last season, Fred Lacey, an end, Richard Huddle, fullback last year, James Coss, quarterback, Gene Peadon, end, John Hoffman, regular guard last season, Richard Corwin, line, Clarence Smith, back who worked into a starring role in the final game, Roger Andrews, end, Jack Bishop, fullback, and Bob Short, guard in the 1945 season.

St. Mary greeted the return of 10. They are Dick Werley, place-kicking lineman, John Baldauf, regular fullback, Joe Maniaci, All-Mid-State league guard last year, Jim Moloney, end, Bob Stuber and Dick Schuler, regular halves and All-Mid-State leaguers, Dan Smith, center, Ed Murphy, back, Tom Wagner, Tackle and Kevin Krigbaum, guard.

Other Candidates

Other candidates for the Harding team are Donald Ellis, Donald Clinger, Richard Gherman, Douglas Kneisley, William Nichol, Jack Owens, William Tsumpes, and James Harmon.

BIGGEST FIELD SET FOR TRAPSHOOTING'S MOST COVETED TITLE

2,000 Marksmen To Gun Today for Grand American Handicap Crown.

By The Associated Press

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 22—The biggest field in trapshooting history grew gunning today for the day target sport's most coveted prize—the 48th grand American handicap.

With close to 2,000 marksmen from all parts of the continent and adjacent points firing in the blue ribbon event, there's no chance the classic will be finished today.

They were still trying to decide the preliminary handicap today an entry list of 1,748 forcing a carryover of the $5,000-added event to this morning. About 200 of the crackshots went the entire route yesterday, eight double-barrelers looking for the lead with scores of 99.

Unless someone bangs a hundred straight today, even the preliminary winner will be undecided until Saturday, for the "roaring grand" itself starts as soon as the squads are cleared—with any shoot-offs being held over.

The "grand" handicap entrants each plunked down $20 for the privilege of firing 100 rounds in quest of the $1,000 first prize and a heap of glory.

No one has ever won the prize twice.

The better shooters, placed far back on the traps, don't have too much chance against novices who are from as close as 16 yards. The experts are graded back as far as 23 yards from where the discs fly from the traps—and every yard counts.

Last year's handicap drew 1,478 shooters, and the previous high was 1,103 in 1941. Yesterday's preliminary crowd of 1,748 was a new trapshooting high, but it was due for an eclipse today when ATA officials predicted a field of 2,000.

With such a field, the added money could easily make victory worth $5,000 to the top man.

Out front with 99's were D. M. Long of Pittsburgh, O.; R. E. Cockel of Wilmington, Ill.; George W. Baillie of Salem, O.; Wilson LaSater of Kansas City, Mo.; John Broughton of Ferguson, Mo.; Joe Enzenberger of Chicago, Ill.; Dr. J. J. Rogers of Kansas City, Mo.; and H. B. Large of Roanoke, Va.

Just behind, with scores of 98, were 18 other shooters. In a list of 47 with counts of 97 were the three leading women, Mrs. Roy Meadows of Grimes, Ia.; Mrs. George Fairchild of Reading, Pa., and Mrs. Clyde King of Atlanta, Ga.

They finally settled the North American clay target championships yesterday in shootoffs for the 200-target 16-yard titles. D. Lee Braun of Dallas, Tex., representative of the Remington Arms Co., won the professional title, 25 to 24, over J. B. Krier of Rockland, Del., and became the first man ever to hold both the national skeet and trapshooting crowns.

Cooler To Tackle Toledo All-Stars

The Universal Cooler softball team will tackle big game at Prospect park Sunday at 5 p. m.

Their opponent will be the Toledo All-Stars. This team, a group of Toledo's better players, has beat some of the toughest teams in this section of the country. Their list of conquests includes the Ford Motor Co. team of Detroit, which was the Michigan State champion last year.

Jim Kunkle has been nominated to hurl against the All-Stars and Garver will be his receiver. Birdie Rule, Toledo manager, has not listed a starting pitcher.

Cooler will travel to Toledo for a return game in the near future and is planning a game in Detroit at the same time.

Ashley Whips Pick-Ups At County Tournament

Special to The Star

DELAWARE, Aug. 22—Ashley beat a pick-up team, composed of players who had participated in the play-off for the Delaware county championship, Tuesday, beating them, 15-4. The pickups shouldered the colors of Sunbury, a team that failed to show.

Hyatts defeated Ostrander, 7-5 to take the crown. Ostrander finished second in the league and Ashley finished tied with Sunbury for the cellar slot.

Bears Tipped To Win Grid All-Star Tilt

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 22 — The Chicago Bears with a record of never having lost to the College All-Stars were 10-point favorites among betting commissioners to win the 14th annual pre-season football game tonight in Soldier Field.

The National Football league champions have won four All-Star games since being held to a scoreless tie in 1934 and will be seeking to avenge the 16-0 trimming the All-Stars handed the Los Angeles Rams last year. A record-breaking crowd of upwards of 103,000 seemed certain.

Several key players on the collegian's squad were injured and several were unable to report until late which adds to the physical handicaps of the All-Stars, coached by Notre Dame's Frank Leahy. Glenn Davis, Army's great back and Bob Fenimore of Oklahoma A. and M. will not be able to play because of knee injuries. It is doubtful also whether Julie Rykovich, Illinois halfback, will see action.

The All-Stars will depend largely upon Buddy Young, Illinois Negro back, Charley Trippi of Georgia, and Vic Schwall of Northwestern university for running sweeps, and on the sharp passing of Notre Dame's George Ratterman, Ben Raimondi of Indiana and perhaps Trippi. Arnold Tucker of Army's undefeated eleven, and Ernie Case of UCLA are other formidable passing marksmen.

Jim Mello of Notre Dame, quite likely will start at fullback. Tony Adamle, Ohio State, Ed Cody, Purdue, and Felix (Doc) Blanchard, Army, will support Mello.

The All-Stars' weakness may be line defense against the heavier Bears who will average 230 pounds in the line.

The professional champions again will depend on the sharp-shooting of Quarterback Sid Luckman, the running of backs Hugh Gallarneau, Ray McLean and George McAfee, and the offensive thrusts of the brother fullbacks, Joe and Bill Osmanski.

MARRIED AT CAREY

CAREY, Aug. 22—Virgil R. Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Parsons of Leon, W. Virginia and Miss Dorothy Faye Sherman, of Carey, were united in marriage Tuesday morning, August 19, at 10:30 o'clock in the parsonage of Carey Memorial Evangelical church. Rev. B. L. Lee officiated at the single ring ceremony. The young couple will make their home for the present with the bride's mother. The bridegroom is employed on the C. & O. Railroad in Carey.

SEEK WAGE INCREASE

BUCYRUS, Aug. 22—Following by only two weeks a general pay raise to City hospital employes, city service department workers in a petition presented to City council Tuesday night asked a 25 cent-per-hour wage increase. The 13 signers declared that their present pay is not sufficient to cover the increasing cost of living. Service Director W. F. Pfleiderer added his personal recommendation that the increase be granted.

ILSE KOCH GETS LIFE. Red-haired widow of Buchenwald concentration camp's former commandant, Ilse Koch, hears a U. S. war crimes court at Dachau, Germany, sentence her to life imprisonment. 8 New Alleys Installed At Marion Recreation

Eight new alleys were installed in the Marion Recreation Center this summer. The Recreation Center opened recently. Hours are from 5 p. m. through 11 p. m.

League bowling starts there the first week in September, Manager Steve Kayton reports. He is listing names of bowlers who wish to join leagues.

PEACE REIGNS IN NAT BASEBALL WIGWAM

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Aug. 22—With a single exception, all was peace in the Washington baseball picture today as a double victory over the Detroit Tigers went a long way toward healing the wounds of the Nats' 11-game losing streak.

Suggestions of internal strife in the Senators' camp were dispelled in a clubhouse meeting before the twin bill and the way the Nats tripped the Tigers, 3-2 and 5-3, left little doubt in the minds of the 13,329 fans that all was serene between Manager Ossie Bluege and his players.

Burton Hawkins, Washington baseball writer who had first told of the players' complaints in a story in the Washington Evening Star, became heatedly involved with Bluege a moment later over what the Washington manager termed "malicious" stories about the Senators.

Bluege charged Hawkins with "snooping around my waste basket" to learn details of some trouble he had with second baseman Gerry Priddy last summer and when Hawkins retorted that it was "a lie" Bluege started throwing punches, some of which landed though harmlessly.

Coach Sam West broke it up and that was that.

MARRIED AT MT. GILEAD

ASHLEY, Aug. 22 — Miss Annie Eckard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Eckard of south east of Ashley and Virgil E. Jones, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Jones of Radnor were married Sunday, at the Methodist Parsonage in Mt. Gilead. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Criswell of near Prospect. Seek City Farm Site For Hospital at Upper

Special to The Star

UPPER SANDUSKY, Aug. 22—City council at a regular meeting here this week accepted the token bid of $10 offered by the district hospital board for a part of the city farm north of Upper Sandusky.

It thus becomes definitely established now where the proposed new hospital will be located. The transfer which will be authorized by the acceptance of the bid will give the new hospital a sufficient plot of ground along the east side of the Tiffin road, three-quarters of a mile north of the Wyandot county courthouse.

Construction of the new hospital has been delayed for months because of shortages in building materials and the high cost of materials available and the rising costs of labor.

WHISTLE SILENCED

BUCYRUS, Aug. 22—Silenced after 60 years of service, the W. A. Riddell Corp. whistle will blow no more. The ultimatum was given by General Manager Jacque Jones this week after numerous complaints had been registered by nearby residents protesting that the noise "awakened their small children and otherwise was disturbing to the citizens."

The buildings of the University of Virginia were laid out according to a plan drawn by Thomas Jefferson.

LANDLORD, TENANT TIFF ENDS IN KILLING

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 22 — A year-old feud between a landlord and tenant who shared a West Side house moved into police court today for its final episode—the filing of charges against the tenant in the fatal shooting of the landlord.

Detective Arthur Willard reported Sanford Murphy, 51, was shot in the head during a quarrel in the basement of a house in which he lived with Joseph A. Gangidine, 25, the tenant.

Gangidine, who told the detective he went to the basement to turn on the water and electricity after Murphy had shut them off, admitted the shooting, but said it occurred accidentally during a scuffle, the detective reported.

Murphy's widow, Lucille, 29, was in the basement when the shooting occurred.

The Gangidines had intended to move Aug. 1, they said, but were delayed by a painting job at their new home. Last Jan. 21, Gangidine's wife, Louise, 29, filed charges that Murphy slashed tires of their car and put sand in the gasoline tank; and a year ago Murphy started eviction proceedings against the Gangidines.

Mansfielder Sues Two, Claiming False Eviction

By The Associated Press

MANSFIELD, O., Aug. 22—Mrs. Jane Skiles Snyder sought $1,000 damages today from two Mansfield brothers, claiming in Richland county common pleas court they evicted her from her rented home through "false and fraudulent" statements.

Her attorney, C. F. Creedman, said it was the first such suit ever filed in Ohio.

Mrs. Snyder in her petition said Michael J. and Joseph Sauer evaded rent control regulations by stating Michael, a veteran, was buying the house when Joseph actually sold it to a third party. Because of Michael's veteran's preference, the petition said, Mrs. Snyder was evicted sooner than would otherwise have been possible.

FUNERAL RITES SUNDAY FOR MRS. AURAL WITZEL

Lockjaw from Stone Bruise Was Cause of Death.

Special to The Star

CARDINGTON, Aug. 22—Funeral services for Mrs. Aural L. Witzel of four and a half miles northeast of Waldo, will be conducted Sunday at 2 p. m. at the home and at 2:30 at St. John Lutheran church at Windfall, Rev. H. Karl Diemer, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in Windfall cemetery.

Mrs. Witzel died in Marion City hospital Thursday. Death was caused by lockjaw which resulted from a stone bruise. It was reported incorrectly in the account of her death in last night's Star that Mrs. Witzel suffered the infection after having stepped on a nail at her home. She had been ill three days and was admitted to the hospital early Thursday. Death occurred at 8:30 a. m.

Born Feb. 18, 1916, she was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kramer. Her marriage to Delbert Witzel was Feb. 6, 1937.

Surviving with her husband are her parents, four children, Paul, Phyllis, Joyce and Janet Witzel, all at home, and sisters and brothers, Mrs. James Contston of Cardington, Mrs. George Tanner and Mrs. George Manley, both of Marion, and William, Delbert and Robert Kramer, all at home.

Friends may call at the Witzel home.

Bargain Basement Houdini Doesn't Like Sailors

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—Anybody can tie Scotty in knots.

He makes his living that way. Scotty is a kind of bargain basement Houdini who goes around the barrooms of New York with a long hunk of clothesline.

Patiently he plods between barstools and tables telling the patrons:

"Betcha can't tie me up with this rope so I can't get loose. Betcha ya can't."

Hal Boyle

Eventually—if the bartender doesn't first toss Scotty into the outer darkness some captive of the bottle boisterously undertakes to string him up like a trussed chicken.

For some reason women in their cups particularly like to nog-tie Scotty. This is probably because every lady, no matter how distinguished has some gentleman in her past whom she secretly has always wanted to surround with rope and drop down a cerp well.

Scotty is a practical psychologist and knows this. As the female pancreante begins to rope his wrists together behind him, he yelps in standard feigned pain:

"Ouch! You're cutting my wrists."

Gives Him Leeway

This outcreak, of course, is designed to give him a little leeway in the rope. As the lady looks on in flustered pleasure, Scotty grunts and squirms and heaves—the perfect picture of the trapped male. Then he works his little tricks, peels off the rope, and stands there exhausted but free—the male triumphant again.

So the lady's escort and all the other men present who nourish in their hearts the perishing dream of masculine victory over a scheming female world must donate the tribute of a dime, a quarter, or a half buck to Scotty.

For 10 years that I personally know of, Scotty has made a good living out of this weary legerdemain. His only upkeep is the cost of the rope. He is now middle-aged, a small slight gray-haired man well-known in half a hundred barrooms in New York.

Sounds Like Jolson—Backwards

When his wrists are frayed too sore to work his rope trick, Scotty picks up small change by singing old standby tunes in a voice that sounds like an Al Jolson record played backward. His imitation of a traveling juke box, however, isn't very successful. He is usually shown a short cut to the fresh air outside.

Like all specialists in a machine-mad age, Scotty has his own troubles. Chiefly they are sailors and ex-sailors who know how to knot a man up too well.

In the past he often would grandiosely bet anybody $50 he could escape from his rope in two minutes flat. Now he is chary of such offers, as the result of a number of unfortunate adventures.

Once a visiting cowboy tied him up so completely that long-suffering friends hung Scotty up on a hook the better to admire his struggles.

Melted Back to Life

Another time a stranger with a maritime background trussed him up methodically and then carried Scotty outside and plopped him in a snowbank. Everyone came back in and promptly forgot him. Afterward a late wanderer explored beneath the quaking snow and found the rope trick artist congealing into a feebly struggling icicle. He was brought in and melted back to manhood.

But the man who broke Scotty's confidence was the young sailor who sewed him with half hitches and running bowlines and dumped him on the floor. Two hours later Scotty said:

"I give up."

"I'll untie you for $1.50," said the sailor.

Scotty went back to pitching and twisting. An hour later, his pride shattered, he whispered:

"Okay, I'll pay."

So now Scotty would rather let the girls tie him up. It's more fun all around.

MEAT DEARTH TAKING FORM

Barring Quick Rains, Next Summer's Supply Will Be Short and Costly.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22—Unless good rains break the midwestern heat wave quickly American housewives may as well resign themselves to some meatless menus next summer—and possibly much higher prices for what meat they do get.

A special agriculture department report yesterday showed that bad crop weather has cut corn production prospects to the lowest level.

A smaller meat supply would hit consumers hardest in the summer since that is the season when livestock marketings normally drop to their lowest level.

Crop Estimate Declines

The department said the heat wave, which has gripped the midwestern corn belt since late July, had cut corn prospects from 2,770,0000 on July 15 to 2,427,000,000 bushels by Aug 15—a decline of 333,000,000.

The latest estimate did not take into account damage which may have been caused by the hot weather since mid-August, or the possibility that the crop may be of poor feeding and keeping quality. Much of it late due to a cool, wet planting season the crop will be subject to frost before it has fully matured and dried.

The government's original corn goal was 3,000 000,000 bushels. And officials have said that around 2 850 000,000 bushels would be needed to maintain meat production near the present high level of 155 pounds a year per capita. The crop last year set a record of 3,287,000,000. The average for the last 10 years was 2,639,000,000.

A crop of the size indicated would cut meat production possibly 15 to 20 pounds a year per person. It nevertheless would still be above the prewar average in the summer season—a fact which could mean higher prices and occasional empty meat counters.

Should the weather continue unfavorable and reduce prospects still further, the government might find it necessary to trim wheat export goals and ask congress for new authority to limit use of corn for making whisky and other industrial products. It had such authority during the war and until July 1 this year.

DREAM STREET

By International News Service

PITTSBURGH—If the Pittsburgh city council decides to open Dream street, it will avert a nightmare for some people. Although the street is unpaved and almost impossible to navigate, the city must take some action because the only nearby route available is to be discontinued.

INDIFFERENCE RULES IN STOCK MARKET

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 22—Mild recoveries continued on a selective basis in today's market but dealings still were negligible and many leaders indifferent.

A few shorts covered and there was a little quick-turn professional bidding on the idea the recent drying up of liquidation meant that the list was in shape for a good rally if conditions permit.

Hershey Chocolate climbed about 10 points to a 1947 high on meager transactions. Pittston Co. also was at the year's top. Ahead most of the time were U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Curtiss-Wright "A," Sperry, U. S. Gypsum, American Telephone, American Smelting, Electric Power and Light, Miami Copper, Pacific Western Oil, American Woolen and Standard Oil of Indiana.

TAFT-HARTLEY

posed the law bitterly before its passage.

The AFL will determine its future policy at an executive council meeting in Chicago on Sept. 8. Some CIO officers believe the CIO executive board will meet soon for the same purpose.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce issued a statement last night saying the Taft-Hartley law was "soundly conceived" and passed after "meticulous consideration." The Chamber said it sees no present reason for changing its provisions.

Shoe Company Signs Pact By-Passing Law

By The Associated Press

PORTSMOUTH, O., Aug. 22—Officials of the Selby Shoe Co. and Local 117, CIO-United Shoe Workers of America announced jointly today that an agreement had been reached whereby the union would not be held financially responsible for unauthorized work stoppages, slowdowns or strikes.

William Aicher, industrial relations director for the company, and George Martin, district president of the Shoe Workers union, said that the contract, providing also a one-year extension until May 1, 1949, was ratified by the union membership last night. Selby employs approximately 3,800 workers.

Aicher and Martin said jointly that the new contract would not hold the union financially liable provided the shoe workers immediately join management in steps to outlaw wildcat stoppages.

In return, they said, the union accepted responsibility for living within the contractual terms, agreeing to work with management whenever such strikes might occur.

Also provided in the agreement was a $63,000 "inequities fund," financed and administered by the shoe company, for wage-hardship cases in bringing certain workers up to standard levels.

Three additional paid holidays also were granted employes.

OHIO DEMOLAY MEETS

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Aug. 22 — More than 850 delegates representing 46 chapters were registered for the opening session of the 22nd Ohio conclave of the order of DeMolay here today. A guest of the convention was Frank S. Land of Kansas City, founder and general secretary of the Masonic affiliate for boys, who told a friendship dinner late yesterday that the order has had more than 1,700,000 members on its rolls since the founding in 1919.

formal contracts now in effect, strikes may ensue.

ITU President Woodruff Randolph, who put over the no-contract policy without opposition in the convention, said "We are not hunting for strikes," but he added:

"We won't run away from them either. There are fair-minded employers who will form the backbone of future relations."

The main issue involves the outlawing of the closed shop by the Taft-Hartley act. The ITU historically has had a closed—or exclusively union shop — in most establishments where union help is used. The new policy is to avoid spelling out a contract calling for hiring of only union printers. In effect, however, the union would insist on only ITU members being employed under the "conditions" imposed.

The new policy written into the by-laws indicated the test of the law might come by means of walkouts, and in supporting the policy Randolph declared that "If we do not like everything the employer does to us (under the act) we can ask the courts to make it worse." He also expressed the opinion it might be "some time" before the U. S. supreme court decided the issue.

The new by-law provision stipulates that "Our (local) unions will give 60 days notice before an existing contract may be changed or terminated. They will notify state and federal conciliation agencies simultaneously 30 days after the original notice."

A test under the act could come if an employer or group of employers decided to fight the ITU policy by charging the union with refusal to bargain.

The convention unanimously voted to boost the weekly pension from $12 to $14. At present there are about 7,000 printers on pension although more than twice that number are eligible under the union's by-laws. A printer 60 years old and with 25 years in the union, who is unable to find work, is eligible for the weekly pension.

Also, a printer incapacitated after 20 years membership in the union and who can not be accepted at the ITU home in Colorado Springs, Colo., likewise may receive a weekly stipend.

No Relief Until Sunday At Earliest Foreseen

By The Associated Press

The midwestern heat wave and drought, now whittling away steadily at corn and other crops, still was anchored for at least three more days, the Chicago weather bureau said today.

There was nothing in sight to budge the searing blast before Sunday night, the forecaster said.

He predicted temperatures generally between 95 and 100 degrees again today for Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, the Dakotas, Nebraska and Kansas, where most of the soil already is parched from about four weeks of dry, hot weather, except for brief passing cool waves and light local thundershowers.

Some crop observers said that with top soil moisture exhausted at nearly no throughout the region the crop deterioration would become more rapid with each additional day of hot soil and drought.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"NOEL?" Mary echoed incredulously, raising herself to a sitting position.

But Katharine put her inexorably back upon her pillows.

"Talk from there!" she commanded, and smiled down at the wry face Mary made.

"You can wag your tongue just as fast lying down as sitting up," she told her patient. "Try it."

"I will," Mary said. "I want to know what Auntie Madge means by that speech about putting something over on Noel."

"I'll tell you very briefly," I said. "I have repeated many times that my father had the bars put up on all these windows for protection. That the installation happened to occur at the time you were threatening suicide was a mere coincidence. Speaking for myself, I was glad when they went up."

"And so, most decidedly, was I," Katharine said.

"Now, it does not matter in the least what you believe about the putting up of those bars," I said. "If it pleases you to think they were put up for your benefit, go ahead and think that.

A High-Strung Person

"But kindly remember that your husband, Noel, is an exceedingly high-strung person. He has no idea that you had any impulse to self-destruction. He must learn soon from yourself about the fear you had, and its banishment. That, in itself, is going to be a great shock to him. If, in addition, you let him know your suspicion about the real purpose of the bars, he will be inexpressibly grieved. But he is your husband, not ours. Do as you please. But, remember, Katharine and I are sticking to our original story about my father's orders."

She made a movement with her hands as if she were shooing chickens away from her.

"I told you before," she said, "that I would say nothing to Noel. But I can't help thinking my own thoughts. But, 'Pip, Pip' and 'Cheerio,' children. Little Mary is really going to try for a nap."

She cuddled down into her pillows, and we tiptoed out of the room.

When the door was closed behind us, we sat down opposite each other and put our heads close together so that we could speak softly.

The tabby who curled up her toes from curiosity has nothing on me," Katharine began at once. "Whatever did old Phil have to say?"

"Plenty," I told her with a grin. "Open your ears and I'll give you a round by round account."

"I'm nothing but ears," she assured me. "Go ahead!"

I told her everything that had passed, for she was entitled to know every detail. Beginning with my preparation of Philip Veritzen for hearing the truth concerning Mary's fear, I went on to his characteristic speech after the shock of my news and before I had had time to tell him of the lifting of the fear from Mary.

"He said: 'Good God, this is terrible! This means I never can have a grandchild!'"

Shocked Incredulity

"Madge!" Katharine exclaimed, in utter shocked incredulity. "He never said that!"

"It's hard to believe," I admitted. "But he actually did. However, I got even with him. I actually knocked down the nice little cardboard house he has built for so many years."

Then I told her of my plain speaking to him, relating my belief that if Mary was refusing motherhood, as he inferred, it was because of her fear of the "royal rages" of the ruling family of Transvania.

"Then I told him flatly," I went on, "that I was sure those rages were not inherited, but had been carefully nurtured by him to keep up the belief in the right of himself and Noel to belong to Transvania's royal family."

"Oh, Madge I could hug you until your bones crack!" my kinswoman exclaimed. "Wait until Dicky hears about his! Please let me be a mouse in the wainscoting when you tell him. His language will be something divine in its devilishness. But go on! What else did old Phil spout?"

Four Members Honored By Crestline Eagles

Special to The Star

CRESTLINE, Aug. 22—G. S. McCune, presided for the meeting of the Crestline Fraternal Order of Eagles Tuesday night. There were 52 members present, five new applications read and four applications accepted.

Gold Eagle rings were presented to Crestlin's Four Horsemen, U. C. Ulrich, Frank Zeigler, John Barber and Joe Sharp, who were the only four horsemen in the district who carried out the goat stunt at the district meeting recently held here.

Rip Kirby By Alex Raymond

GOOD NIGHT, ALL... I MUST GET MY BEAUTY SLEEP! I'M LEAVING TOMORROW FOR HONOLULU AND THE MAINLAND, YOU KNOW...
HOW GLAD I'LL BE TO SEE HER GO! AND BELIEVE ME, SHE CAN USE SOME BEAUTY SLEEP!
SO CAN BEAUTIES! IT'S TIME ALL LITTLE GIRLS WERE IN BED!
WHAT A LOVELY NIGHT! AND HE CHASES ME OFF TO BED!
OH!

Dick Tracy By Chester Gould

HM? DID I HEAR SOMETHING UPSTAIRS? I'D BETTER GET OUT OF HERE FOR TONIGHT.
IT IS HIM. HE HAVE SKELETON KEY. HE COME BACK AFTER I CLOSE. OH—NOW IS MUCH TO DO.
TEN MINUTES LATER.
COFFYHEAD. EXCUSE ME INTERRUPT SLEEP. YOU RIGHT! WE IN MUCH DANGER.
